REDS KILL NATIVE NEBRASKAN

Terrorists Fire On Billet

Maj. Dale Buis, Who Lived In Pender, Slain In Viet Nam

Bienhoa, South Viet Nam (AP)—Terrorists with Tommy guns infiltrated a U.S. Army billet Wednesday night and killed a major and a sergeant in a group watching the movie "Tattered Dress."

One of the dead was a native Nebraskan.

The government Thursday blamed Communists.

The attack went on for 10 minutes. One of the attackers was blown to pieces by his own homemade bomb. Two Vietnamese army guards and a Vietnamese boy were killed in an ensuing gun battle.

Watching Movie

Six American service men—members of a military aid group—were in the mess hall watching the Jeanne Crain movie.

Beside the two dead, a captain was wounded.

The 3 American survivors could see the attackers peering in through screen windows as bullets smashed into the floor and walls.

In a lull in the firing, the Americans made a break for the main door of the mess hall, sped outside and summoned two companies of South Vietnamese soldiers.

Driven Off

The Vietnamese drove off the attackers, believing to total about 10, who fled to the nearby Dongnai River. They apparently had come up by the river.

Maj. Dale R. Buis of Imperial Beach, Calif., and M-Sgt. Chester M. Ovnand of Copperas Cove, Tex., were killed.

Buis, 37, a native of Pender, Neb., and veteran of 17 years Army service who spoke several Asiatic launguages and was formerly stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., leaves his widow and three children, Kurt, 8; Mark, 6, and Lance, 5.

Capt. Howard B. Boston of Blairsburg, Iowa, was wounded. He was flown to Manila for treatment. He was not wounded seriously said a joint communique from the Viet Nam government and the U.S. Embassy.

The 6 Americans were members of an 8-man U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group (MAAG) team training the soldiers of anti-Communist South Viet Nam in the use of American-supplied weapons.

Herter Is Still Hopeful

Says Berlin Deal Might Work Out

Washington (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter Thursday saw some possibility—though he is not optimistic—of reaching an agreement with the Russians on Berlin.

The prospects, he indicated, will depend on what answers the Soviets give to a pair of questions from the Allies when the East-West foreign ministers conference resumes in Geneva Monday.

Herter said the Western allies will want to know:

1. Whether the Russians are saying that Allied rights in Berlin will expire at the end of an 18-month deadline, or whether they will continue even though no East-West agreement has been reached by then, and

2. Whether the amount of time allowed for negotiation on the German question is itself a negotiable point as far as the Russians are concerned.

Deadline Refused

Since the Geneva talks recessed fruitlessly on June 20, he said, the Reds have left unclear whether they are insisting on a deadline to push the Allies out of Communist-encircled West Berlin. The Western powers have made clear they will not negotiate under a deadline which they regard as an "ultimatum."

The U.S. foreign affairs chief declined to say whether a favorable answer from the Communists on these questions would constitute the progress that President Eisenhower says is needed from the Geneva conference before he would go to a summit meeting of heads of state.

The 64-year-old Herter spoke at his first formal news conference since taking over as secretary from the late John Foster Dulles last April 22. He fielded a wide range of foreign policy questions before a near capacity crowd of 190 newsmen in the State Department auditorium.

Sits On High Stool

Because he suffers from an arthritic condition, Herter sat on a high stool during the 40-minute session instead of standing at the lectern, as his predecessor used to do.

In discussing the Geneva prospects, Herter laughingly declined to sum up in a single word how he feels about going back. That word might be unprintable, he quipped.

As the questioning ranged far and wide, Herter admittedly slipped up in saying at one point that he might not be welcomed in Berlin after the Geneva conference. He said that remark had been just an offhand comment on the possibility of a bad decision from West Berlin's standpoint, which he hoped would not occur.

Slain Major Born In Pender, Neb.

Omaha (AP)—Maj. Dale R. Buis, 38, one of the 3 Americans killed in a raid by Viet Nam communists Wednesday north of Saigon, was the son of Mrs. Serena Buis of Immanuel Deaconess Institute in Omaha.

He was a military advisor to the Viet Nam government.

Maj. Buis was born in Pender. His father, Dr. John Buis, was a widely known Nebraska physician.

The major served in World War II and was commended for outstanding service while assigned to army intelligence in the Korean War.

THE NEW REPLACES THE OLD

Side by side this week at Scribner are two bridges providing living testimony of highway progress in Nebraska. At left is the new bridge across the Elkhorn River at Scribner, dedicated Thursday, and at right is an ancient steel structure which will not admit two cars of modern day size. The old span is not long for this world however. It is scheduled to be torn down right away, according to Dodge County officials. (Story and picture on the dedication on Page 23.) Summer's Back; Temps In 90s

Fair and warmer is the weather outlook for Nebraska Friday.

Temperatures are expected to rise into the 90s throughout the state.

Widely scattered thundershowers may splash the west Friday night, the Weather Bureau said.

Scottsbluff had the state's high Thursday with a pleasant 88. Lincoln and Omaha ran a close second with 87s.

Nebraskans were treated to good sleeping conditions as nighttime lows hit 41 at Sidney and never got above 58 recorded at Omaha.

Lincoln's low was 56.

Taxation Of Gifts To Coaches Questioned

Court Action Filed By Glassford, Davis, Prochaska In Dispute

By Don Bryant

Can friends and interested alumni of a university present cash gifts to a football coach, without the latter being taxed by the federal Internal Revenue Service.

This question will be settled within the next year for the benefit of 3 former University of Nebraska football coaches, who have filed petitions in the United States Tax Court asking for a ruling on the matter

J. William (Bill) Glassford, Nebraska head coach from 1949 to 1955, and two of his assistants, James R. (Bob) Davis and Ray Prochaska, have asked the Tax Court to rule that cash received by them from a Century Club—no longer operating—were gifts and not subject to federal income tax.

Lincoln Attorney Philip M. Aitken, who filed the petitions on behalf of the 3 former NU coaches, said Thursday afternoon that the money they received "was nothing but a gift—voluntarily given with no strings attached.

"The Century Club had absolutely no control over Glassford and he was never told what to do or what not to do with the money," Aitken said.

Specifically, Aitken said, Glassford received and reported a total of $16,533.80 from the Century Club during a 4-year period, 1952 through 1954.

The IRS claims the money represents taxable income and that Glassford owes $6,040.51 in taxes and $881.02 in penalties for a total of $6,922.48.

According to Aitken, Davis has been assessed a total of $430.07 on the basis of $1,000 received in 1954 and 1955.

Eye Substantial Wage Hike For Police, Fire

. . . Boyles Endorses Increases

By Virgil Falloon

Mayor Pat Boyles said that "substantial increases" in police and fire salaries must be made if deterioration of these two major departments is to be prevented by the city.

Full public hearings by the City Council will be held on the departmental budgets, particularly as to salaries, during the budget sessions expected to start after July 15.

Low salaries have been publicly cited as the major cause of the high rate of turnover in the Police and Fire Departments during the past several years.

Boyles described the effectiveness of both departments as "amazing" despite the worsening situation of keeping and attracting qualified personnel, but said "deterioration must be stopped now."

No. 1 Item

Several Councilmen have indicated a full-scale review of police and fire salaries will be a No. 1 item in the budget sessions.

It has also been indicated that the city's employe classification system and salaries need a major overhauling. City employes have asked a $25-a-month general wage boost.

This would be a major responsibility of the personnel director and the newly-created 5-member personnel board, recently given city charter status.

Last year, the Council granted a $15-a-month increase across the board to police and fire personnel and a $5-a-month boost to other city employes, but indicated the salary schedule would be reviewed further this year.

In the new budget, it is believed that police will seek to boost the starting wage for patrolmen from $302.50 to $317.50, and from $337.50 to $375 for patrolmen after one year service.

$50 Spread

Similarly, sergeants would be boosted from $367.50 to $425 in connection with an expected recommendation of a $50 spread between ranks.

Additionally, the police request would seek $10 per month for each 5 years in rank with a limit of 15 years or $30.

Firemen have indicated they will seek a $50-a-month increase across the board with a $10 pay boost for each 5 years of service.

Firemen now receive a starting wage of $285, work a 24-hour shift or a total of 72 hours per week. Police start at $302.50 and are on a 6-day, 48-hour week.

Authorized police strength is 104 uniformed officers and 4 meter maids. Handicapped in finding qualified personnel, the department is employing 3 University of Nebraska football players and a coach temporarily during the summer months.

$65,000 Annually

The proposed police pay boost would increase the department's monthly payroll of $35,265 by about $5,600 or some $65,000 annually.

According to the Municipal Year Book for 68 cities ranging from 100,000 to 200,000 population, Lincoln police salary of $4,050 annually for patrolmen compared with the average of $4,721 and the maximum of $6,060.

Police starting wage is $3,630 annually for Lincoln compared with the 68-city median of $4,086 and the maximum of $5,496.

All these cities, with the exception of two in addition to Lincoln, have a 40-hour week for police officers.

The Fire Department has an authorized strength of 146 men, but the Fire Underwriters have recommended a minimum of 18 additional firemen.

The department is at full strength, but a spokesman said there are no reserve applicants.

Burglars Drop New Tools In Flight From Cops

Police apparently foiled a burglary attempt Thursday night when during a routine check a beat patrolman flushed two men from an alley.

Policeman Stanley Gushard scared the pair from an alley between 10th and 11th and M and L.

In their haste, the would-be intruders left behind a brand new leather carrying case loaded with never-used burglar tools. The case, police said, contained a crowbar, a flashlight, an 8-lb. sledge hammer, a punch, two pinch bars and a screw driver.

Police immediately converged on the area, but the two who fled in opposite directions could not be found.

U Of N Salaries Hiked By $1,620,000

90% Of Budget Increase Goes Into Pay Checks

. . . Individual Raises Determined On Merit Basis

By Virgil Falloon

Ninety per cent of the $1.8 million increase in the University of Nebraska's 1959-60 budget of $16,066,129 will go into higher salaries for University faculty and personnel.

The budget, approved by the Board of Regents at its regular meeting Thursday, is the result of increased appropriations granted by the Legislature.

Of the $1,620,252 budgeted increase for salaries, Comptroller Joseph Soshnik said 75% would go into academic salaries, 19% into classified, hourly and graduate assistant salaries, and 6% into executive salaries, including deans, directors and superintendents.

'Merit Basis'

"These increases," he emphasized, "are determined on a merit basis and not on an across-the-board scale."

Dr. Soshnick said the actual increase of $1,797,871 in the new budget over the 1958-59 budget consists of academic and administrative salaries, $8,906,401, up $1,322,155; classified and hourly wages, $3,500,386, up $191,827; graduate assistants, $519,320, up $106,260 and operating expenses and equipment, including $31,000 more for social security, $3,140,022, up $177,629.

Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin listed these salary ranges (the 1958-59 ranges are shown in parenthesis) for faculty members of undergraduate colleges on academic year (9-months) appointments:

Professors, $7,700 to $11,000 ($6,440-$9,500); associate professors, $6,000 to $9,200 ($5,400-$8,200); assistant professors, $5,000 to $7,800 ($4,300-$7,500); and instructors, $4,500 to $6,600 ($3,600-$6,000).

Dr. Hardin said he was pleased with the budget and that the "salary increases will place the Nebraska faculty at about mid-point in average salaries paid faculties of principal competing institutions."

Dr. Soshnik said the faculty salaries based on a full calendar year would range $1,500 to $1,800 higher for professors, less than $1,500 higher for associate professors, about $1,000 higher for assistant professors and $700-$800 for instructors, as compared with the shorter academic year salaries.

The budget proposes no new activities at the University, Dr. Soshnik said. This is line with the Legislature's mandate in granting $1.9 million less than requested by the University and the Board of Regents' policy on the matter, he said.

He said the "tuition income of about $2 million" is estimated at the present rate. "If any increase in enrollment materializes, the increased tuition income will be used to hire additional teachers as needed."

6 Sources

The general funds budget of $16 million is supported by 6 different revenue sources: State general fund, $12,250,000; tuition income, $1,971,371; federal funds, $1,456,757; endowment income, $45,000; county levies for patient-care at University Hospital, $152,000, and cost reimbursements in such areas as vocational education, agricultural extension, and College of Medicine, $191,000.

The general budget is for teaching, research and public service programs at the nine colleges of the University in Lincoln, the College of Medicine and allied facilities at Omaha, agricultural extension service to the 93 counties, and the agricultural experiment stations in the state.

Dr. Soshnik said the "dollars are being channeled into salary categories where the need is the greatest".

90% Personal Services

The budget, he said, represents 90.1% for personal services (salaries) as compared with the traditional 80%. Less than 10% will go for operation and maintenance.

University officials said the $1.9 million cut in the University's request represented about $200,000 less than recommended for salaries and $1.6 proposed for expansion.

Top University faculty salary will be $17,500, generally believed granted the dean of the medical college.

A University spokesman said Law Dean E. O. Belsheim was increased from $12,500 to $13,500 as recommended earlier.

Academic salary increases will become effective Sept. 1, he said.

In addition to the general budget, Dr. Soshnik estimates $7,711,928 for the fiscal year in cash auxiliary funds.

These are essentially revolving funds for activities which are self-liquidating such as the Student Union, dining halls, student health services, payroll deductions, extension division services, and storeroom and service departments.

"Each of the activities must produce receipts to match any disbursements which are made," he said. "These auxiliary funds are not used to finance regular instruction or academic activities."

All Board of Regents members were present at the meeting except Dr. B. N. Greenberg, who is traveling in Europe.

Regents OK Bids For Kellogg Center

. . . Revenue Bonds To Be Used

The University of Nebraska Board of Regents cleared the way Thursday for construction of the $2.9 million Nebraska Center for Continuing Education to start immediately on the agricultural campus.

On the recommendation of Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin, the Regents authorized the use of $350,000 in revenue bonds and accepted the low bids of $2,594,268 for general, mechanical and electrical work.

Successful low bidders were Parsons Construction Co., Omaha, $1,778,429 on the general contract; Ray Martin Co., Lincoln, $615,839 on mechanical, and Modern Electric Co., Omaha, $200,000 on electrical.

Awarding of the bids had been delayed the past several weeks after totals proved to be in excess of the $2.2 million estimated for construction.

Business Manager Carl Donaldson told the board Thursday that a re-study showed that by reducing certain optional items and using the bond issue, the building could be constructed within the available budget.

The University has available for the building a $1.5 million grant from the Kellogg Foundation, $1.1 million from state-wide contributions, and the $350,000 bond issue, making a total of $2,950,000.

Donald recommended nonacceptance of the $132,386 low bid for kitchen equipment and that the work should be offered for re-bidding after needs are reassessed and perhaps cut back.

If necessary, he said, the University could take advantage of certain mechanical, general and electrical options which might save another $131,000.

Other ways would include reducing landscaping items, a re-study of all furnishings and use of temporary seating in the auditorium.

Could Be Added

"As additional contributions are received, such items could be restored in later years," Donaldson explained. "If we move ahead now, we will be assured of an operational building by 1961."

He said his recommendations would not alter the basic plan of the structure nor its character.

Nikita Said Not Seeking All-Out War

...Harriman Gives View

New York (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev is "proud, arrogant and emotional," but he doesn't want war with the West, W. Averell Harriman, one time U.S. ambassador to Russia, said Thursday.

The former New York governor told newsmen on returning home of his talk with the Russian leader during a Moscow dinner last month. It was one of the highlights of Harriman's 6-week, 18,000-mile trip through Russia.

Harriman ambassador during the regime of the late Joseph Stalin concluded that Khrushchev, though a dedicated Communist, was far less ruthless than Stalin.

In fact, Harriman said, he had far tougher talks with Stalin than with Khrushchev.

Nikita Not Versed

Harriman said he felt Khrushchev was gravely ignorant of the U.S. A summit meeting in New York would help the Soviet premier learn something of the political atmosphere of the U.S. and give him first-hand knowledge of Western leaders, Harriman added.

'Teachers Lead Greatest Adventure'—Gustavson

Gustavson

Learning is man's greatest adventure and good teachers are the people who lead it, Dr. R. G. Gustavson, former University of Nebraska chancellor, told 600 teachers and summer session students at the University.

Dr. Gustavson's speech Thursday afternoon closed a two-day meeting on the National Interest in Education, a special conference presented by the University's summer sessions at the Student Union.

Dr. Gustavson, now president and executive director of Resources for the Future, Inc., in Washington, D.C., told the group that a good teacher "is indispensable to education."

"And," he added, "education opens the door to science; science opens the door to technology and technology to a higher standard of living."

Only Half

This progress, he cautioned, is only half the answer. The other half lies in developing and practicing a moral motivation for the determination of values.

"The everyday commodity of milk affords a good example," he said. "Science and technology can tell us all there is to know about milk: its properties, components, chemistry, molecular structure and all the rest.

"Knowing all there is to know about milk is of no particular value itself," he continued. "Far more important is a genuine desire to get milk to every hungry youngster in the world who needs it. You can even have the right kind of a social organization to permit the delivery of milk to all the kids who need it, but having the organization is not enough.

'Care Enough'

"The really important accomplishment of education is the development of a human sense of caring enough about life and human beings to want—really want—to get the milk to all the children who have need of it."

The teacher who assists in the great and complex task of promoting progress in both science and morality, Dr. Gustavson said, plays a leading part in the greatest of all adventures.

"In this day," he concluded, "when we are plotting the intelligence of our children on the probability curve—those with not too much and those with great reserves of intelligence and the average in between these two—when the temptation is before us to spend increasing time on the gifted at the expense of the mass, I am sure that the answer of the schoolteacher is, 'These are all my children.' "

Beggs, Dr. Wesley

Also speaking at Thursday's sessions were Dr. Walter K. Beggs, dean of the University of Nebraska Teachers College, and Dr. Wallace Ann Wesley, health education consultant for the American Medical Society in Chicago.

Dr. Beggs told the assembled teachers that there are 4 difficult questions which educators must answer in the decade ahead:

—Decide how to determine the mark of an educated person by democratic standards as opposed to the classical European stereotype of the leisurely scholarly gentlemen isolated from society.

—What is a gifted person?

—How can we establish communication between the gifted person and those of average mentality?

—Do we educate men to create a better world, or to die by the instruments which they designed with their knowledge?

Dr. Wesley discounted the notion that today's youngsters are not as healthy as those of 15 or 20 years ago.

Speaking Thursday morning, she said that "today's youngsters compare favorably" with those of yesterday, and cited studies showing that today's "school children are growing bigger."

Lincoln Shriners March In Atlantic City

Shrine Parade Honors Potentate Andrews

Lincoln Star Special

Atlantic City — A parade, honoring Dr. Clayton Andrews of Lincoln, newly-installed Imperial Potentate of the Shrine, moved majestically along the Boardwalk here Thursday night.

Dr. Andrews was formally installed as Potentate in ceremonies Thursday.

The colorful units, including those of Sesostris Temple of Lincoln, passed in review along the illuminated Boardwalk in front of massive Convention Hall.

Here, Dr. Andrews and the Imperial Divan watched the splendor of the final big event of the 85th annual convention of the Shrine of North America.

Gov. and Mrs. Ralph Brooks watched the parade from the Shellburne Hotel, headquarters of the Nebraska delegation. The governor made two speeches during the meetings, one at the pageant depicting Dr. Andrews' life and the other at the Potentate's Banquet honoring Dr. Andrews.

5 Hours

Sesostris groups led the 5-hour procession, which saluted the elevation of Dr. Andrews to head of the 810,000-member organization which provides fun for members and supports 17 crippled children's hospitals on the North American continent.

Like everywhere else in Atlantic City, space was at a premium and bleacher seats were sold along the Boardwalk.

Thousands jammed the bleachers Thursday and the Boardwalk. It looked like a gigantic version of the midway at the State Fair.

Uptown traffic rode bumper to bumper. Shops and stores were crowded.

Shriners moved along the sidewalks in droves and fun-vehicles tooted and whistled in the streets.

State Song

Strains of "There Is No Place Like Nebraska" floated across this resort city.

Tourists thronged to hear Jess Williams, Pat Burt and Bob Stephens, decked in red and white coats, white trousers and straw hats, play the accordion, washboard and banjo.

When the trio finished its stint, Val Curtiss took the snappily-attired Sesostris dixieland band through its paces.

Friday, the 300 Lincoln Shriners and families board a special train to return to Lincoln, arriving Saturday night.

Weather during the Shrine session has been warm, with the ocean breeze cooling the Boardwalk in the evening.

Sesostris uniformed groups performed on the Boardwalk every day and drew plaudits from the crowd, as they did in both the day and night parades.

Steel Talks Recessed

New York (AP) — Steel negotiators temporarily suspended direct talks Thursday to reach their minimum terms needed for a contract settlement before next Tuesday midnight's strike deadline.

Major steel company executives were reported huddling secretly to discuss the possibility of making a formal settlement offer.

The steelworkers union, for its part, was reported to have whittled down its asking price for a new contract and seeking to win a possible meeting ground with the industry.

Barring progress toward a settlement—and there seems to have been nothing concrete accomplished in this direction so far—the industry will have to start shutting down on Sunday.

Long Might Leave Today On Vacation

Previously aides had indicated Long would leave the farm Friday on an extensive Western vacation tour from Mexico to Canada, contrary to his doctors orders that the ailing governor should refrain from activity.

Thursday afternoon, State Rep. Lloyd Teekell, a Long supporter, visited him in the executive mansion. Teekell, emphasizing that he spoke as a layman, told newsmen:

"I personally think he is growing weaker. That is not to say the governor will not recover. I wouldn't say he is near death, but he's very sick. He's growing weaker."

A 5-man team of doctors examined Long Wednesday and expressed concern over his mental and physical deterioration.

One Killed In Collision

Minden, Neb. (AP) — One man was killed and two seriously injured Thursday in a county road intersection collision 7 miles south of Norman.

Killed was Paul Hubert, 47, of Minden. Hospitalized in Minden with undetermined injuries were Earl E. White, 29, of Minden and Theodore Miller, also of Minden.

The State Safety Patrol said Hubert was killed outright when a truck he was driving was in collision with a pickup truck driven by White. Miller was a passenger in the White truck.

Both vehicles were demolished in the mishap.

The death raised the state's 1959 traffic death toll to 154 for the year, 3 more than on the same date a year ago.

Taxation Of Gifts To Coaches Questioned

tion on behalf of Prochaska." Aitken said. "However, his case involves a very small amount of money."

Aitken, who emphasized that he had no wish to try the case in the newspapers, likened the situation to that in other parts of the country where coaches have received automobiles, houses and other items.

'Something Nice'

"It was a bunch of enthusiastic football fans who wanted to do something nice for the coach," he said. "They usually gave the gifts after Christmas, and they chose cash rather than household items or things like that.

"There was a general good feeling and Glassford and the other coaches were told that the money was a gift and nothing more," Aitken said. "There were absolutely no strings attached and the gifts had no bearing on whether or not Glassford stayed or left."

As for the Century Club, Aitken said it was a group of "more than 200 people from all over the state who knew the money was a gift.

"I thought the group's existence was common knowledge," he said. "With so many members, you can't keep something like that a secret. It met only once a year for a dinner. Bill didn't even have to attend the dinner if he didn't want to."

Years Listed

The IRS, according to Aitken, is basing the tax claim against Glassford on the following amounts received: 1952—$4,590; 1953—$4,271.30; 1954—$4,608; 1955—$3,064.50. Tax claims are: 1952—$1,601.24; 1953—$1,661.26; 1954—$1,458; 1955—$1,320. Two penalties assessed were $530.95 and $351.02.

Aitken also explained that there is no limit on the amount of a gift a person can receive, tax free. The giver must pay a gift tax on amounts over $3,000, he said.

"Of course, with so many people involved, no one person gave anything like $3,000," he said.

The coaches' attorney stressed that the University of Nebraska was "involved in no way whatsoever.

"There was no payment for service or thought of supplemental salary," Aitken said. "Bill was given cash gifts to do with as he pleased."

In contesting the IRS claims, the coaches' petition said they performed no service for the Century Club, and that the club members received no direct benefit from the donation except "The pleasure and satisfaction" of making a gift to a friend.

The Associated Press reported that the IRS also disallowed some travel expense which Glassford deducted on his tax return and which he described as necessary to his profession. This involved trips to coaching clinics and post-season games, not financed by the University.

Also challenged, the AP said, was a 1955 deduction by Glassford for an asserted loss on an oil well investment.

Both Glassford and Davis are now affiliated with an insurance firm and reside in Scottsdale, Ariz. After he quit coaching, Davis managed the Hollywood Bowl, Lincoln bowling alley, until recently when he moved to Scottsdale.

Prochaska is an assistant coach with the pro Chicago Cardinals of National Football League.

40% Of All Lincolnites Now Immunized Against Polio

Approximately 40% of Lincoln's population has been immunized against polio as a result of having received the Salk polio vaccine. About 1,000 daily are now receiving the innoculations.

This is the information found in a report given to the president of the Lancaster County Medical Society, Dr. John McGreer, by members of the society's advisory board on polio.

At the present time, federally-financed vaccine is distributed for innoculations of all boys and girls under 20 and for pregnant women.

But, the Lancaster County Medical Society's special committee also stressed that individuals not on county welfare rolls, but to whom the cost of the vaccine would be a hardship, may obtain special certificates from their physicians to get the shots at City-County Health Department facilities.

The committee urged residents to contact personal physicians to obtain the protection, noting that "polio is not a child's disease but is just as likely to hit the family breadwinner or mother of the home."

Lincoln has reported 7 confirmed cases of polio and 3 unconfirmed cases. There has been one death as a result of the disease.

In regards to the amount of polio vaccine presently available, Dr. Paul Goetowski, chairman of the polio advisory board stated, "The commercial vaccine has been and will continue to be adequate in supply. If the federally-financed supplies run out, vaccine could be purchased from commercial companies."

Working with Dr. Goetowski in preparation of the report were Drs. Bernard Wendt, D. W. Ebers, George Misko, and Harold Horn, and Morris Siegel, Lancaster County chapter president of the National Foundation.

Narcotics Worth Estimated $8 Million Seized

Pair Nabbed By Canadian, U.S. Officers

Montreal (AP) — The seizure of an estimated 8 million dollars worth of narcotics was announced Thursday by police shortly after the arrest of two men linked with the underworld.

Supt. Rene J. Belec of the Mounted Police criminal investigation branch identified them as Giuseppi (Pepi) Cotroni, 45, and Rene (Bob) Robert, 31. They were nabbed by 15 Canadian and U.S. narcotics officers in a motel.

Both are wanted in Chicago on charges of participating in a ring supposedly dealing in millions worth of stolen Canadian bonds.

Police said the heroin, weighing 13 pounds, was amassed during a series of raids in the past month. No narcotics were found in the raid on the motel room of Cotroni and Robert.

Twenty more raids were made throughout the Montreal area during the night but no one was arrested. Montreal police said the local branch of an international narcotics ring became their top target after information from the 1957 gangland convention in Apalachin N.Y. dried up U.S. drug sources.

Meanwhile, U.S. narcotics officials searched places in New York, New Jersey and other states, officials said.

Robert put up a fight and suffered a head laceration in the scrap to subdue him, police said.

Cotroni, a heavy-jowled Montreal tavern and nightclub owner surrendered meekly.

Cotroni and Robert were indicted in Chicago 10 days ago for trying to dispose of loot from a 3½ million dollar theft of bonds, cash and jewelry from the Brookville (Ont.) Trust & Savings Co. Safecrackers broke into the vaults there May 3, 1958.

Israeli Mayor Likes U.S. Election Plan

By Virgil Falloon

Joseph Gadish, Mayor of the 4,000-year-old city of Acre, Israel, would like to see his office elected by the people rather than chosen by the city council.

In Lincoln Thursday during his 60-day stay in the United States to study municipal government, Mayor Gadish said this country has many forms from which to chose—strong mayor, weak mayor, city manager.

"But," he said, "I like the idea of having the people elect the mayor."

Mayor Gadish, who earlier visited Omaha and Council Bluffs, said his city of 25,000 in northwest Galilee faces some of the same municipal problems as cities in this country.

Visits Boyles

He visited with Mayor Pat Boyles and former Lincoln mayors at City Hall and then toured the Statehouse and visited the governor's office.

He presented copper and silver trays, depicting Israel scenes, to both Gov. Ralph Brooks and Mayor Boyles. His Lincoln host was Louis Finkelstein.

Balancing the budget is a difficulty shared by most cities, he said. Most of Acre's citizens are persons who arrived after Israel was established as a state. About half of the city's funds come from the state.

Acre is a seaport and agricultural community, but is shifting to industry to provide work and raise the standard of living, Gadish said.

No Friction

Its mixed population of Jews and Arabs causes no friction, the mayor said. "Both are represented on the Council and work side by side in industry for the same wages," he noted.

The 43-year-old mayor, a school teacher by profession, was born in Poland, but migrated to Palestine in 1934. He was active in the Jewish refugee movement.

Acre is both old and new, Mayor Gadish said. The new portion of the city is very modern and the old portion is being restored for historic interest.

800 Years Old

The community has an 800-year-old Moslem church, the oldest in the Holy Land, which is being restored by the Israeli state.

Mayor Gadish came to the United States June 1 under the State Department's foreign leader exchange program.

Speaking remarkably good English, the ex-school teacher confesses the subject was self-taught over the past 10 years.

"I can read much better than I speak English because of limited conversational opportunities in the language," the mayor said.

County Budgets Now $15,931 Above 1958

Four more county budget requests were submitted to the County Board Thursday for approval.

Eleven county agencies have now submitted their proposed budgets. Their requests for 1959-60 total $377,252 compared with the $361,321 they were granted for 1958-59.

This is an increase of $15,931.

County Board Chairman Rollin Bailey has said increases in the county's tangible and intangible valuations this year have assured that the present county mill levy of 4.9 will be cut in spite of higher county operating expenses.

Bridge Budget

County Engineer Louis Weaver also submitted a county bridge maintainance and construction budget which will call for $116,133 in tax funds. He said this is about the same amount which last year's .6 levy (which was included in the overall 4.9 levy) raised.

Weaver said if the .6 levy is continued it will bring in more money than he is requesting, but said the funds could be used to help replace some of the county's aging wooden-floored bridges. He has said the county has 5 miles of wooden-floored bridges which will eventually have to be replaced.

Weaver has estimated the cost of such replacement at $8 million.

The County Board will hold budget hearings Monday and Tuesday at which 28 county agencies will appear.

Latest to submit their proposals were:

Office	1959-60 Request	Granted 1958-59
Clk. Dist. Ct	$48,924	$45,522
Dist. Ct. Costs	62,460	63,460
Bld. & Grounds	33,150	32,790
County Surveyor	22,135	20,506
County Clerk	51,930	55,906
County Judge	37,736	36,801

Note: The requests of the County Judge are being reprinted due to typographical errors in the figures which were used in Thursday's Star.

The Water's Fine

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

When Star Sports Writer Al Beebe decided to do a story on boating, he didn't have to go very far. You might think that this would entail a trip to Minnesota or at least to Johnson Lake in the Platte Valley series. But you are wrong about this. It takes nothing more than a run to the northern outskirts of the city.

To be exact, you can find a story on boating at Oak Lake. The trouble is, if the story matched the lake, it wouldn't be much of a story. But it was a story for Beebe because he pitched it on the sport itself, not the adequacy of facilities in the Lincoln area. The story was enough to tell us that boating is the fastest growing pastime on the American scene today and the growth is not confined to the coastal or Great Lakes regions. There is plenty of it right here in Lincoln where family after family is investing upwards of $1,000 in a boating outfit.

New Phase In Sports

That word "family" is the key to the upsurge in the sport. It isn't just the man of the house who is buying himself a nice piece of leisure under the sun. His pleasure is being shared by his wife and children who like swimming, water skiing and even fishing just as much as he does.

It is a wonderful way of filling the empty evening hours or the weekends off from work. It is about the most relaxing escape from the routine that one could find. A rippling lake with an occasional fine spray blowing across your face can make you forget just about any problem you have. Throw in a glowing sunset, the clean fresh air and a purring motor and the combination defies improvement.

If you think the sport isn't catching on in Lincoln, just talk to any of the boat dealers in the city. Gone is the day when only a few places stocked boats and when only a couple were sold from stock during the year. The amazing thing about it is that there would be such an interest in this area where there are no good boating or fishing facilities.

The potential of this sport is beyond imagination. If the Lincoln area had a substantial lake, the boating business would be something to stagger you. There are places where the boating enthusiasts go to get their crafts wet but they are some distance from the city and none of them very large.

★

If the city is lucky, a lake larger than the Oak Lake facility will eventually be established near the headwaters of Antelope Creek around 52nd and Van Dorn. This would not be the all-purpose facility we might like to have, however.

One of the best possibilities in the Lincoln area is the proposed lake in the Wilber area. There is enough area there for the development, eventually, of a real resort center. There could be lake-front cabins, fishing and boating. The site is a natural as it has a constant supply of fresh underground water.

It is only about a half hour's drive from Lincoln. Unfortunately, there are apparently no groups in Lincoln doing anything to support the Wilber project and the people of that area have evidently not made a contact with Lincoln sources. It is something that Lincoln definitely has a real interest in and should support as far as possible. The business men in the boating trade, the boat owners, the Chamber of Commerce, the city government and others — all have an interest in the Wilber project. It will be an unfortunate loss if this interest is not realized or is ignored. People in the Wilber area have already raised some funds and the State Game Commission has promised to help in every way possible.

Wilber Lake Project

But the project could be given a tremendous boost if Lincoln got actively behind it. It would mean a lot to the city in good will throughout eastern Nebraska, would be an asset in the luring of new industry to the area and would be a popular facility for the people of Lincoln.

Prospect Of A New Industry

The University of Nebraska's proposal to make foundation studies on the feasibility of building a major industry of vegetable production and canning is one of considerable significance.

Dr. J. O. Young chairman of the University's department of Horticulture and Forestry told interested groups at Kearney and Holdrege that the possibilities exist in the state for an industry which could do a $100 million a year business.

The University proposes, (1) to develop vegetable plots to show what can be successfully grown in Nebraska (2) to conduct research in methods and materials to encourage maximum production and (3) to make a survey of the state's climatic, soil, water and distribution factors.

Such a study is needed.

Vegetable production and canning was an adjunct to every Nebraska community of size a half century ago. The industry languished in the face of uncertain production, limited markets and competition weighted heavily on the side of large concentrated canning enterprises.

But the factors which operated against Nebraska canning are no longer what they were. Nebraska now has extensive irrigation which assures ever-normal production in a volume not earlier possible. Moreover, the greatly increased cost of shipping is operating against the far distant canneries. It appears that the competitive edge now favors the state.

The two greatest problems seem to be those of an adequate labor force and the winning of the market. But the prospect of winning a $100 million a year industry is a proper adventure in resources development and the subject should be energetically pursued as the University proposes to do.

Housing Bill Veto

Your reaction to the veto by the President of the House-and-Senate-passed housing bill depends entirely upon your own philosophy of government and your own theories of economics. For those who believe that an improved standard of living for people is a logical area of concern for the government, the veto is the political move some members of Congress attributed it to.

If the government should have no interest in the clearing of slum and blighted areas or in the assistance of families moved from such areas, then the veto was a proper thing. If public housing is outside the realm of government activity, then the veto was right. Likewise, it was right if the government should have no interest in promoting the educational objectives of the nation through, among other things, dormitories, classrooms and laboratories.

Again, the veto is right if the government has no business attempting to spur the construction of housing for elderly people. These and many other things constitute the housing bill which the President failed to sign. They are areas of definite need in the country and areas in which no other solution has yet been found. They do not represent government activity in competition to private enterprise. They represent government activity where private enterprise has failed to act and, in many cases, an effort to get action by private enterprise.

President Eisenhower does not argue the merits of the program, however. He expresses concern for the inflationary aspects of the housing bill. Thus, it is inflationary, to lift the standard of living, to encourage construction to meet the specific needs of neglected segments of the population and to promote educational advancements. What the President says in effect is that it is inflationary to spend money.

This, of course, is ridiculous. It completely ignores the fact that growth and expansion of the economy and inflation are not necessarily one and the same thing. If there is more spending because more people are sharing in the productive genius of the land, this is economic strength and greater prosperity—not inflation. If average incomes are permitting more families to own more of the better things in life, this is the desired social end of capitalism—not inflation. The housing veto, to many people, will be a bitter disappointment and to still others a bitter hardship.

Erosion Of Free Press

A few months ago the State Department finally yielded to pressure from the press and retreated from its position of issuing no passports to newsmen destined for Red China. It provided that 30 correspondents could go.

Recently Waldo Frank, who sought a passport as a correspondent for Latin-American newspapers, was refused a passport by the department. He went to court and the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled against him. It held that the department was withing its rights in deciding for some correspondents and against others.

The specific case of Waldo Frank was not a strong one. Latin-American papers did not need to send a North American correspondent, and did not need to come under the restrictions of U.S. passport regulations. They could have sent one of their own nationals to China and averted the whole question. This in itself could have been the basis for refusing Frank's passport request.

Nevertheless, the case should not die in the Circuit Court of Appeals for it fortifies a principle that would make American correspondents instruments of the State Department and not of the free press itself.

In the United States newsmen have never been servants of the government. Rather they have been a part of the free press with a first responsibility to report objectively for the American people. The State has its own means for obtaining foreign information, and enjoys the right to state its diplomatic case both to foreign countries and to the people at home. If the objectivity of the American press is curbed or diverted by the careful selection of the "right kind of correspondents" by the State Department the people could at best be subjected to unilateral information or propaganda at the worst.

The Circuit Court of Appeals decision is one that merits penetrating review by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Coastal Clip Costs

The patrons of Holdrege tonsorial parlors will have little appreciation for the word which their police chief, Russell Edwards, brought back from California, namely, that the price of haircuts there is now two dollars. If such costs continue to rise, violins or a trend to beatnik styles will be finding more and more favor.

Housing Bill Veto Spotlights Johnson

WASHINGTON — Eisenhower probably didn't mean to play his cards that way, but he has just handed the Democratic congress an issue that will either tear the Lyndon Johnson Democrats and the liberal Democrats into two fiercely divided camps or unite them in harmony. The issue is his veto of ths housing bill.

To get the inside story of why this is going to make or break the Democrats you have to know the following developments that have transpired in the privacy of Senate cloakrooms:

Cloakroom development No. 1—Sen. Joe Clark of Pennsylvania, one of only three Democrats to be elected mayor of Philadelphia since the Civil War and therefore in a position to speak for northern Democrats, has been showing other Democratic senators a chart of how Lyndon Johnson has failed to support the Democratic party.

Cloakroom development No. 2—Johnson himself is weeping on the shoulders of his Republican friends over the ingratitude of President Eisenhower. He is calling Ike an "all-or-nothing man" a man who doesn't appreciate compromise. Lyndon tells Republican senators that he, Johnson, has stuck out his own neck with Democrats to try to give Eisenhower compromise legislation approaching what he wanted, whereupon Eisenhower vetoes it.

☆ ☆ ☆

The veto of the housing bill has made Johnson especially sore. This bill was scaled down on Johnson's specific orders to meet Eisenhower's approval. It was cut by Senate-House conferees from $2,675,000,0000 as passed by the senate and $2,100,000,000 as passed by the house to only $1,375,400,000. Slum clearance (urban renewal) alone was scaled from the senate figure of $2,100,000,000 over a six-year period to $900,000,000 over a two-year-period.

Cloakroom development No. 3—Occurred in the privacy of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, when Deputy Premier Kozlov was lunching with its members. He was talking about housing, admitted that at present the United States was ahead.

Then he proudly unfolded a program for Soviet housing considerably more ambitious than the one Eisenhower has just vetoed. "We have just launched a seven-year program to build 25,000,000 apartment units," Kozlov said.

DORIS FLEESON

Ike Undershot His Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON—The most remarkable aspect of the argument over the reduced foreign aid bill is that President Eisenhower does not seem to know why it turned out that way.

Yet he himself created the anti-spending political climate which gave all the advantage to enemies of foreign aid and put all its supporters on the defensive. The same pattern was followed when questions of tactics in the legislative battle arose.

At every point the President sided with the Treasury and the Budget Bureau and ruled against the State Department. This fact State Department spokesmen admitted to congressional strategists.

During part of this time Secretary of State Christian Herter was pinned down in Geneva. But even on his return, no effort was made to use him and his high standing with Congress. No one seems to know whether he tried and failed to counter the Treasury-Budget influence on Eisenhower or merely felt helpless to stem the tide.

Still majorities of the Senate and House Committees steering the bill carried on, including internationalist Republicans. They were all let down by White House decisions in the course of the struggle. The Republicans, led by Senator George D. Aiken of Vermont, are openly bitter.

☆ ☆ ☆

In a final fumble the President sent his sarcastic veto of the housing bill on the eve of the foreign aid vote. The housing bill's sponsor, Senator John J. Sparkman of Alabama, has consistently stuck his neck out for foreign aid.

There is always a remote and cynical chance that the President does in fact know that by his own acts he consistently undercut the foreign aid bill's chances. This is not believed here by any qualified observer. It is not the first time he has instead seemed truly oblivious to the pressures upon Congress and the role the President must play when he requires its members to sacrifice their constituencies to what he deems the national interest.

The course of the reciprocal trade legislation has shown much the same thing. Trade and foreign aid alike depend for passage upon a measure of loyalty and protection from the White House for the members of both parties who are willing to support them.

It required no special political astuteness to realize when the President raised his anti-spending battle cry against Congress that the destined scapegoat was foreign aid. It was never popular at the grass roots and has been less so each year

Its best chance lay in some kind of alterations to meet the criticisms. Perhaps the proposals of Senator J. William Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, were not the best answer, but they were a serious attempt to shift ground so that the doubtful might be won over. They could not have been handled more coldly by the President if Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler had proposed them in a television interview.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Another Chicken-Egg Riddle

By MONA B. PARKER

The cool air that give midwesterners a breather from summer heat and humidity reflected itself in many ways, even to a changing pattern in grocery sales. Checkers in Holdrege markets noticed that women shoppers were buying more flour than usual, catching up on baking that had been postponed during the brow-mopping days.

☆ ☆ ☆

Holdrege has been the scene of a mild plague of crickets, the cheerful chirping of which, says Editor Harold Spence, may be a pleasant sound in wood or lawn, but which, coming from basement, bookcase or living-room floor, sends housewives into a perfect stit . . .

He has nothing more constructive to offer than a prayerful hope for a seagull invasion . . .

☆ ☆ ☆

Tobe Wilken joined his friends at the Bruning coffee counter and announced he had caught a bass in South Dakota that measured 44 inches. The group pondered, decided that bass that large just do not exist. So Fisherman Wilken explained that he always used a tape measure, and this particular catch was measured up one side and down the other . . .

Editor Wayne Thompson of the Banner thought Mr. Wilken "simply used artistry" in his method of measurement.

Nebraska's capital city apparently is not the only metropolis that has brawls about malls. Wymore is well on its way to a civic controversy on something of a similar nature . . .

A wren is small but the determination and energy packed in so minute a package are sometimes wondrous to behold. A story a few weeks ago told of a pair of wee warblers building in the pocket of a pair of overalls hung on the line. Recently a Princeton farm woman, Mrs. Floyd Bohmont, tossed her muddy overshoes on a post to let the rain save her the trouble of washing them off. When she checked again, little Mrs. Fussy Feathers had taken up abode inside one of the shoes and was busy setting her home life in order . . .

Boulevard islands there have been planted to flowers, with various youth groups maintaining the five beauty spots. The city council has discussed the various aspects, and two schools of thought have come forth — that the islands help to slow down potential speeders and are an attractive addition to the general appearance of the town—and that they are a traffic hazard in narrowing traffic lanes and parking areas.

☆ ☆ ☆

Writer Fred Marsh, who has lived close to Merrick County soil for well over 80 years, describes the food value of eggs and wonders, then, "why they should be selling for 18 cents per dozen while the best cuts of beef cost close to a dollar per pound. Nice fat hens are selling for eight cents a pound."

The wise home-maker with refrigeration would do well to stock up on these items, he advises.

☆ ☆ ☆

Eleanor Seberger of the Dawson County Herald has been canning some of her old hens, a chore which is not among her favorites, but "I'll put them all into jars before I'll sell them on the market right now."

A neighbor had taken seven hens to town, and came home with $1.25 — five cents a pound.

BOB CONSIDINE

Meet Bethwell Henry, Micronesian

NEW YORK—I want you to meet a Micronesian friend of mine. Never met a Micronesian? Well, you've missed something in life. Meet Bethwell Henry. Interesting name, isn't it? As you can see, he's lean, lithe, crew-cut, Madison Avenue suit, and chocolate colored. Couldn't be nicer. He's the first man from his part of the world ever to win a college degree.

Let him tell you something about himself:

"Our grandfather's name was Eneri. On Mokil, which is in the Ponape district, we didn't have last names. But then we had to have them. So he changed it to Henry. I got my first name from the Bible. Rebecca's father, I think. Besides it was the name that good friends of our family had taken in the Marshalls.

"Our land, our water, is made up of the Marshalls, Carolines, the Marianas, and the Palau Island chains. It is about the size of the United States, but, of course, there are not so many people. We are under the U.N. trusteeship, and the trustee committee is headed by a wonderful American named Delmas Nucker. On the commission are the representatives of India, New Zealand, Paraguay, United Arab Republic, Soviet Union, Italy, Haiti, China, United Kingdom, France, Burma, Belgium and Austria. The Russians have been angry at the Americans on the U.N. committee. They say that if there are any more tests of your nuclear bombs at Eniwetok, which is not far from us, it will endanger us, and therefore you should stop." He smiled.

"As a boy — I'm now 25 — I heard the 1946 bomb, the first one, at Bikini. Mokil is 500 miles away. Nobody knew what it was, this sound. We had heard louder sounds."

Yes?

"When the Japanese took us, the U.S. Navy bombed and bombarded us. The Japanese had sent my father to Ponape for forced labor in the rice fields and later taught him how to be a carpenter. My mother and my little sister and I went with him. We stayed up in the hills, under the trees. When the bombers or the bombs would come, we would run for a cave nearby. Everybody in the hills had a cave."

☆ ☆ ☆

How did he happen to go to school?

"Well, I had part of my elementary under the Japanese. On other islands, we heard, they were very harsh. But they did nothing to us; did not bother our culture. There was just discipline: work, go to school. Then, when it was over, and I was growing up, Robert Halvorsen, the educational minister of the Ponape district, chose me to go to Mid-Pacific Institute in Hawaii. It was far to go, but my father said, 'Go as far as you can in schooling. I have seen what ignorance does if you are forced into labor.'

"I went through Lahainaluna Technical High on Maui, studying agriculture, then the University of Hawaii, majoring in government. My last two years there were on a John Hay Whitney Fellowship, for which I am eternally grateful."

Who are the Micronesians?

"A good question!" Bethwell Henry said. "I have learned from friends interested in anthropology that we probably came from Southeast Asia, but there is another theory that we were originally from Peru. We resemble both peoples. Our language root is Polynesian. We have nine languages and many dialects. I have served the trusteeship as clerk and interpreter, and now I am going home to teach."

How did he like it here?

"New York is a big city," Bethwell Henry said sighing. "So tomorrow I go to Washington, and then I will take bus and train to Los Angeles so that I may see what a friend has suggested: life in the middle. I will see Chicago, Waterloo—because my friend John DeYoung, the anthropologist, stays there—Kansas City — because my roommate at the university is from Coffeyville — and Prescott, in Arizona, and the Grand Canyon."

We wished him a safe journey. It's a great little wonderful world, isn't it?

Up And Down

Hastings, Neb.

The cheapening of the American dollar through inflated increase in wages to the white-collared class as well as to the man in overalls goes merrily on.

When a state white-collar employe sitting at a roller-top desk has a hike in wages given him by the Legislature sufficiently great to pay his income tax and buy a new car every year, he is sure getting into the capitalistic class!

The social security beneficiaries in Nebraska — and there are 90,000 of them as well as the 17,000 on old age assistance and other pensioners — find their dollars diminishing in purchasing power while the white-collar employes' dollars keep increasing. Is there anybody so foolish as to think that the pensioner will keep on voting for more of that kind of medicine? And will the taxpayer who is being raided in the payment of the increased salaries, increases wholly uncalled for, not also rise up and help do some housecleaning?

The only meritorious bill passed by the last legislative session was that of bringing out the hidden taxes, and Terry Carpenter gets credit for that if for nothing else.

Playwright Steals Own Show

London (UPI)—Hard-drinking Irish playwright Brendan Behan, fed up with a drying-out ordeal in a Dublin hospital, plunged headlong into London's west end the other night on a "wetting excursion."

What Behan was out to wet was his whistle, and he did it impressively by downing formidable amounts of beer.

Rumpled, crumpled, garrulous and "very thirsty," he burst into Wyndham's Theatre for the premiere of his new play, "The Hostage," and promptly stole his own show. At one point he even went on stage to dance a jig.

Night Lifer

Behan, 33, is by no stretch of the imagination a mere broth of an Irish lad. He's a hulking, hard-cussing, 300-pounder who knows his way about Dublin pubs and jails uncommonly well.

He came to London straight from a Dublin hospital, where his doctors had sent him to "dry out" from the effects of a drinking bout on the continent. Behan blamed "that continental rotgut for his hospital confinement.

"I had to get away for a few days," he said. "I'm fed up with milk and lemonade. They're all right for kids and invalids."

Jeers For Cheers

As Behan stomped down the aisle to his fifth row seat, persons in the audience recognized him and cheered. "Idiots!" he roared back at them.

While the play was going on, Behan, whenever he disapproved of the way an actor spoke the lines, told him so—loudly. At one point, an actor answered him back: "I'll have you shot."

Behan dashed out to a pub during the first intermission and swallowed some beer. "If my wife expects me back in Dublin tonight she is wrong," he said fiercely. "I'll get back when I feel like it."

State's Share Of Head Tax Will Be Less This Year

Deputy State Tax Commissioner Wilber Houtchens said Thursday the state's share of the head tax will be considerably less this year as result of a new head tax law.

Last year the state collected all the head tax and revenue totaled $828,072. It was $2 for all persons between 21 and 58.

The 1959 Legislature raised it to $3.50 a person between 21 and 60 and allowed one-sixth to the state and the remainder to counties, school districts, cities and villages.

Based on three counties which now have reported amounts to the tax commissioner, Houtchens said if the trend continues the state should receive about $295,000 this year.

Last year Burt County taxed 3,153 for $6,306 which all went to the state. This year the county taxed 4,190 raising $14,665 of which the state will receive $2,444.

Nuckolls County taxed 2,588 last year raising $5,176 all of which went to the state. This year 3,343 were taxed for $11,700 in revenue of which the state gets $1,949.

Lancaster County taxed 41,739 last year raising $83,478 for the state. This year 50,572 paid the tax of $177,002 of which the state will receive $29,499.

$1 Million For Ainsworth Faces Trouble—Brock

A $1,000,000 Senate appropriation for the Ainsworth irrigation project may not "stay in" the final congressional public works bill.

Rep. Lawrence Brock (D-3rd) told the Star Thursday that he was "not sure" that funds for the controversial project would get past the Senate-House conference committee.

The money was included in a blanket $1,258,836,300 recommendation by the Senate Appropriations Committee for irrigation and flood control projects. The Senate passed the bill Thursday afternoon by a vote of 82-7.

Brock said that he and Rep. Don McGinley (D-4th) opposed the Ainsworth project because they thought it was "to expensive."

'Not Aware'

"The Bureau of Reclamation (the agency of the Interior Department which handles irrigation projects) wasn't aware of ground water conditions in the Ainsworth area," Brock said.

"Actually, there is a sufficiency of ground water for irrigation, and wells there compare favorably with others in the state," he concluded.

At Ainsworth, William C. Smith, chairman of the irrigation district, said that "people in this area are very pleased about the Senate's action."

"We re-polled the district in June on this project and got 216 favorable votes. This is more favorable percentagewise than the original vote creating the district," Smith said.

The district was created in 1953 by a vote of district property owners, 204-44.

Unstable Rainfall

"We have a very unstable rainfall situation here. Right now we have just a little over 9 inches of rain for the year," Smith said. "This project is badly needed."

If the appropriation stays in the final bill, construction contracts will not be let until pending litigation on the project is cleared up, according to Smith.

A group of 9 ranchers, most of them residents of the district, filed objections to the granting of water priority rights for the district with State Water Resources Director Dan S. Jones Wednesday.

Other Nebraska projects for which funds were approved are: Salt-Wahoo in the Lincoln area, $400,000; Gering and Mitchell Valley, $350,000; Missouri River, Kensler Bend, Neb. to Sioux City, Ia., $900,000; power line from Pine Bluffs, Wyo., to Sidney, Neb., $227,000.

Bostwick Division, $2,338,000; Farwell Unit, $3,000,000; Frenchman-Cambridge Division, $4,601,035, and Red Willow Dam, $525,000. (The appropriations for these last 4 are the same as in the bill already passed by the House.)

Falls City School Budget Increases

Falls City, Neb. (AP)—The Falls City school district budget for 1959-60 has been increased about $36,000 over the school year just concluded. The new budget is $360,000. It includes $239,339 for salaries of teachers and administrators.

Down The Drain

Mexico City (AP) — A lot of headaches went down the drain this week when the Food Ministry destroyed 800 liters of adulterated pulque, the liquor made from the maguey plant.

A tentative budget of $220,000, about 5% higher than last year, has been approved by the municipal government.

The municipal government is figuring on a sizable increase in taxable valuation to provide the extra revenue needed.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

Vacation: The sun shines on our sunburn (which is gradually turning an elegant and social brown).

Batteries are being recharged. We live in rich surroundings, in the valley of Carmel, Calif. A time of peace and reflection.

"HAVE YOU SEEN MY HAIR SPRAY?"

That is the shouting voice of teen-age impatience. Get off your back and let's get on with the world.

"Look in the suitcase."

"WHAT? I CAN'T HEAR YOU."

Heavenly days.

☆ ☆ ☆

Young men come to call these days. And the preparations that go into such visits call on all our reserves. Not only young MEN! They are strange young men! ompletely new strangers! Oh my goodness!

It appears that this is enough to curl your hair.

We have sort of become used to young men in the past year. But they are local boys—you know, we practically GREW UP with them. These boys we never even knew EXISTED! Eek!

☆ ☆ ☆

I must say this gave me quite a turn when I discovered what was in the works.

One day these children are collecting lizards to put in glass jars. Next day they are collecting young men to put in glass jars. It calls for a nimble mind.

I have a nimble mind. I sit on the deck chairs and converse with youth. They are pretty wary, pretty guarded. They do not know what I may have in my foxy pocket and are watching my footwork before they commit themselves.

"Do you swim here often?"

"Yes, sir."

(That is the ticket. Get in plenty of "sirs.")

The lady they have come to see is back in the cottage. Ripping off one dress and trying on another. No matter what we plan to wear, we change our mind at the last minute.

"Would you like a coke?"

"No, sir. Thank you."

(He probably thinks I am going to poison him.)

"She'll be ready in a few minutes."

"Yes, sir," he says miserably. (We both know better.)

Personally, I do not see how she will ever be ready. The last time I saw her, she was pinned in enough curlers to make a suit of armor. There was so much hair spray flying around you needed a gas mask.

For several hours she just lay on a bed, looking vacantly into space. I made a few remarks about getting dressed. But she just looked at me as though she were coming out of ether. "What?" she said.

So I gave up.

Conversation with the young gentleman has now come to a full stop. We have run out of words. We sit and stare into the pool as though we expected a whale to surface any minute. Or maybe a floor show to come on.

☆ ☆ ☆

The object of our affections suddenly appears on the scene. The curlers are gone and, amazingly, she looks quite human. The dazed look has gone from the eyes. They are bright and interested—a good deal like a lizard in a glass jar.

"What time will you be in?" I try to put some sternness in this. But it has a hollow ring. I am a little new to such inquiries.

"Right after the show. About 12."

"All right. Have fun."

The hope of the new generation disappears out to the driveway. I go and dress myself. The tan is excellent, I see in the mirror. I think I will wear the gray slacks tonight—gussy up. They have an excellent piano player here at Los Laureles. I will sing with him. Until midnight when I must turn back into a pumpkin.

Tennis Club's Ban To Be Investigated

. . . Negroes, Jews, Barred

New York (AP) — The New York City commission on intergroup relations, set up to eliminate prejudice and discrimination, Thursday scheduled a hearing on charges that the famed West Side Tennis Club bars Negroes and Jews as members.

The Forest Hills club, site of the U.S. tennis championships and the Davis Cup matches, was criticised in Congress, too, for shutting its doors to Dr. Ralph Bunche, a Negro.

Dr. Bunche, undersecretary of the United Nations and winner of the Nobel Peace Prize for his work in mediating the Arab-Israeli conflict, said Wilfred Burglund, president of the club, advised him the club's policy excludes both Negroes and Jews as members.

The commission hearing was set for July 21.

Dr. A. J. Marrow, chairman of the 15-member group created by law in 1955, said the commission has subpoena powers. He asserted that Burglund and other club officials would be called to the hearing.

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—Dr. Ralph Bunche will receive Frol Kozlov, Soviet first deputy premier, when Kozlov visits the UN this weekend.

Informed sources said Bunche would meet Kozlov in place of Swedish Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, who is in Geneva.

Net Star Gibson Stunned By News

London (AP) — America's Negro tennis star Althea Gibson said she was stunned on hearing that Dr. Ralph Bunche had been barred from a New York Tennis Club because of his color.

"How ridiculous," gasped Miss Gibson. "Are we living in the 20th century or not?"

Iowa Firm Bids Low On De Soto Bend Work

Omaha (AP)—The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Thursday announced the apparent low bidder on a pilot canal and levee at the De Soto Bend recreation and wildlife project on the Missouri River near Blair.

Lowest bid of 4 submitted was that of the Western Contracting Co. of Sioux City, Iowa. Western submitted a bid of $448,527 as compared with a Corps of Engineers estimate of $461,188.

Lancaster Wheat Crop 'Very Poor'

Lancaster County's wheat harvest, which should be completed by the end of the week, was termed "very poor" by the County Extension Agent's office Thursday.

The yield has only averaged about 16 to 18 bushels per acre and has generally been of low quality, agricultural experts said.

Dr. Ferre Resigns As Cotner Dean

. . . Bound For Texas

Dr. Gustave Ferre, dean of Cotner College at the University of Nebraska for the past two years, has resigned his post to accept a position as head of the department of philosophy at Texas Christian University at Ft. Worth.

His resignation becomes effective Sept. 1 at which time he will assume his new duties. Prof. Raleigh Peterson has been named administrative officer until a new dean is appointed.

Dr. Ferre, who is the brother of Dr. Nels Ferre, well-known theologian of Andover-Newton Seminary in Massachusetts, came to Lincoln from Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn., where he received his Ph.D. degree.

While in Lincoln he was active in Kiwanis, Interprofessional, the Open Forum, as well as the Lincoln Ministerial Fellowship and the campus religious program.

100,000 Years Ago

London (AP) — The leg bone of a rhinoceros which roamed Britain about 100,000 years ago has been unearthed in the London theatrical district. The bone, a tibia, came to light while workmen were sinking a foundation shaft for a new building. It was identified by Dr. A. J. Sutcliffe of the British Natural History Museum.

House Unit Spars Over Civil Rights Bill

Washington (AP) — Northerners and Southerners in the House Judiciary Committee argued Thursday over proposed additions to the civil rights law.

A drive is on to draft a bill by next week for House consideration later.

The civil rights bill is part of the Democratic legislative program which one faction in the party now says is moving too slowly. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson, facing a Southern blockade, is understood to have asked Emanuel Celler (D-NY) chairman of the House committee and a long-time advocate of strong civil rights laws, to take the initiative.

Celler said Thursday's closed-door session was mature, but a free-for-all."

Most of the discussion was about a section which would make violent interference with the carrying out of court orders a federal crime.

This is aimed at mob action or threats in cases like the Little Rock, Ark., and Clinton, Tenn., school desegregation crises. Republicans and Northern Democrats generally agree on this section, part of President Eisenhower's recommendations.

Predictions already were being made that the committee ultimately will approve a bill closely conforming to Eisenhower's recommendations.

Segregationists Losing Ground, NAACP Maintains

New York (AP) — Southern segregationists lost ground on every front last year, the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said Thursday in a report on 1958 events and activities.

"The year 1958 was the beginning of the end" for advocates of "massive resistance" to the anti-segregation rulings of the U.S. Supreme Court, the report said.

While segregationists lost ground, the NAACP forged ahead, the report said. The organization recouped its membership losses of 1957, it said. For the first time, the NAACP's income from all sources totalled more than $1 million last year.

The group issued the annual report 4 days before its annual convention begins in New York July 13.

As examples of the segregationist losses, the NAACP listed:

1. The U.S. Supreme Court decision in the Little Rock school case, reaffirming the original school decision of 1954.
2. The election of a liberal Congress, increasing the chances of enacting stronger civil rights legislation.
3. Election of Senators Albert Gore of Tennessee and Ralph Yarborough of Texas, both moderates over opponents "committed to defiance" of the Supreme Court.
4. "The closing of schools in Little Rock and in 3 Virginia cities to avert desegregation—moves which alienated the support of those who valued public education above provincial prejudice."
5. "The bombing of schools, churches and synagogues — which turned public opinion against the segregationist extremists."

Waverly Gas Station Intruders Take $260

An estimated $260 in goods and coin was reported taken in a burglary at Hedges Service Station in Waverly, according to the sheriff's office.

The loss included 4 car batteries, 8 tires, a radio, a hotplate and about $4 in coin, deputies said. The intruders apparently broke out a window late Wednesday night or early Thursday morning to gain entrance.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

SUBURBIA

PRAIRIE VALLEY

Newest member of the young set in Prairie Valley is Jonathan King Biehn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Biehn of 4420 Van Dorn, who arrived June 30 at Lincoln General Hospital. Mrs. Biehn is the former Marcia Connell. Fond admirers of Jonathan are his two brothers, Stephen, 5, and Michael, 3, and of course, Mrs. A. L. Biehn, the paternal grandmother. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Connell of Chicago, Ill., are the maternal grandparents.

Recently returning from a two weeks camping and fishing trip were Mr. and Mrs. Armand Chaves and their three sons, Bob, Mike, and David. The Chaves family spent some of the time at Gavin's Point, and also went boating at the Harlan County Reservoir.

Flying to Glendale, Calif. and parts of Southern California will be Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Eden and their children, Lou, Lynn, and Lana. They will be accompanied by Mr. Eden's mother, Mrs. Villah Eden. During their stay on the west coast the travelers will visit friends and relatives.

HOLLINGSWORTH HEIGHTS

A fun-filled week end is in store for Dr. and Mrs. James McCabe and their two sons, Jeff and Casey. The McCabe family, with Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, will spend the week end at the McCabes cabin in South Bend. They will swim, boat, and celebrate Mrs. McCabe's birthday, which is Saturday.

Honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower Wednesday evening was Miss Ellen Spann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Spann who, as you know, will wed Carl Kent Nielson of Billings, Mont., in August. Co-hostesses for the dessert supper were Mrs. Julius Astor, Mrs. Richard Campbell, Mrs. Jack Cunningham, and Mrs. Clay Cox. The shower, a neighborhood party, was held at the home of Mrs. Astor.

SOUTHILLS

A family get-together was held at the Robert E. Duden home on July 4th. Coming from Hastings were Mrs. Duden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo P. Kelley and daughter, Jan, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brouliette. Mrs. Brouliette is a sister of Mrs. Duden. Another sister and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robinson and daughter, Lynn, were there from Lincoln.

TOWN TALK

—Our chapter on guests continues this morning—but by way of diversion we also have news of homecomers—travelers and news of brides-elect—

On our guest list is Dr. Susanna Leona Chase of Denver, Colo., Alpha Chi Omega at Nebraska, who arrives today for a Friday-to-Sunday visit with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chase, and their daughter, Debbie. Dr. Chase is stopping off in Lincoln en route to her home in Denver from the east coast.

In courtesy to their house guest Mr. and Mrs. Chase will entertain at a buffet this evening at their home. The guest list will include members of the family.

* * *

—And arriving on Thursday afternoon were Lt. (USN) and Mrs. Clifford Bekkedahl and their small daughter, Barbara, who are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Olson.

Lt. and Mrs. Bekkedahl and their daughter came to Lincoln from Chicago, and from here will go to Columbus, O., where Lt. Bekkedahl will be stationed on the NROTC staff at the University of Ohio.

* * *

—Among our homecomers are Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Fieselman who returned home earlier this week after a vacation trip that took them to Toronto, Montreal and various interesting Canadian spots. A portion of the trip was taken by boat on the Saguenay River, and we understand that Mr. and Mrs. Fieselman had a glimpse of St. Lambert Lock, on the St. Lawrence Seaway, at the eastern terminal at Montreal.

* * *

—We also heard that Mr. and Mrs. George P. Abel, Jr., and their family are back in town after a holiday at Yellowstone Park.

* * *

—The bride-elect in our news of the morning is Miss Lucy Webster, whose marriage to Wayne Robertson will be solemnized on Friday, Aug. 7.

On Thursday Miss Webster was complimented by Mrs. Floyd Alcorn when she entertained at luncheon at her home. Following the luncheon, for which places were arranged for 12, Miss Webster was presented with a miscellaneous shower.

Had Morning Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM F. MANKE, JR.

At a double ring service and the celebration of the nuptial mass, the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Ann Gajdos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Gajdos of Indianapolis, Ind., to William F. Manke Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Manke of Lincoln, took place on Saturday morning, June 20, at St. Cecilia's Cathedral in Omaha.

Miss Sandra Gajdos was her sister's maid of honor, and the flower girl was Becky Wright of Watertown, S.D. Pat Wright was the ringbearer.

William Carr of Lincoln served Mr. Manke as best man, and seating the guests were John Zimmer III, of Lincoln, and William McGath.

The bride appeared in a gown of white silk organza over taffeta. The long-sleeved bodice, designed in the Empire mode, had a bateau neckline, and the skirt flared to extreme bouffancy.

Following a wedding breakfast at the Town House, Mr. Manke and his bride left for a honeymoon in Colorado, and upon their return they will reside in Omaha.

The bride attended the University of Indiana, the University of Nebraska, and Duchesne College in Omaha.

Mr. Manke is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and now is a senior at the University of Nebraska College of Medicine where he is a member of Phi Rho Sigma fraternity.

Late June Wedding

MRS. RICHARD REINHOLT

For the wedding of Miss Doris Jeannette Roberts, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Chris Roberts of Beatrice, and Richard Reinholt of Lincoln, son of Mr. and Mrs. Snorri Reinholt of Dearborn, Mich., which took place on Saturday, June 20, the chancel of the Centenary Methodist Church in Beatrice was appointed with white gladioli and cathedral candles. The double ring ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Walter Jewett assisted by the Rev. Neal Malicky of Baldwin, Kan., cousin of the bride.

The attendants, Miss Alice Young of Norfolk, the maid of honor; and bridesmaids Miss Carol May Riffee of Richmond, Ind.; Miss Karolyn Packett of Lincoln, and Miss Bonnie Roberts, were frocked alike in white cotton lace over horizon blue taffeta.

Larry Fiori of Lincoln, served as best man, and the ushers were Floyd Roberts of Colorado Springs; William Reinholt of Dearborn, Mich., and Donald Roberts.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of lace and tulle over taffeta. Sequins patterned the portrait neckline of the long-sleeved lace bodice, and the lace was repeated in the back panel which drifted over the wide skirt of ruffled tulle.

Upon their return from a honeymoon trip to Lake Okoboji, Mr. Reinholt and his bride will reside at 875 So. 37th St.

The bride attended Nebraska Wesleyan University, where she is a member of Willard Sorority, and was graduated from the University of Nebraska. Mr. Reinholt is attending Nebraska University.

Dear Abby . . .

Be Polite—But Firm!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What can be done about telephone soliciting. I get so annoyed when I must run to the telephone in the midst of bathing the baby. Or am awakened from a much-needed nap to hear someone tell of a special offer the cleaners or photographers are having. I have always given a polite reply, but have been tempted to tell them off. If I removed the receiver from the hook, I'd risk throwing my line out of order. Then, too, I might miss an important call. I have considered complaining to the Telephone Company. Is there a solution?

MRS. S.

DEAR MRS. S. The next time you are annoyed in this way, tell the party calling you did not appreciate being disturbed. When merchants realize that they are defeating their purpose and building ill will, they will discontinue this annoying practice.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: This fellow I have been going steady with for three months won't take NO for an answer. He is always wanting to make out. I told him from the start that I have to be careful of my reputation. He said he wouldn't talk. But he has told me about some other girls he made out with. What do you do with a boy who tries to get a girl to break down?

JANEY

DEAR JANEY: Break up!

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Will you please give me your opinion of how a housewife should dress around the house? It is nothing for me to come home and find my wife in the kitchen, cooking supper, wearing a backless, strapless and almost frontless dress that she wore dancing the previous night. Or a lace sheath with chiffon streamers and a rhinestone choker and long earrings. I'd like to find my wife looking like a real housewife, not like a burlesque queen. I can't tell her — will you?

TALKED OUT

DEAR TALKED: If you have told her — she "knows" what she should wear around the house, but doesn't care. Surprise her with some cute cotton cottage aprons or housedresses. If this fails, just thank heavens she is in the kitchen cooking when you come home.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a great one for noticing the good points of all the other girls he sees. He notices in one minute if she has good legs, or if her mouth is sensuous, but I could step out of a beauty parlor with my hair dyed green and he wouldn't notice a thing. How come?

NOT NOTICED

DEAR NOT: The "one in the window" always looks better. YOU'RE bought and paid for.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Heavy Equipment Unit Lists $2,515 Lobbying Expense

The Nebraska Heavy Equipment Dealers Assn. reported it paid former Gov. Robert B. Crosby of Lincoln $2,515.19 in June for services and expenses as lobbyist for time sales legislation.

The report was filed with the secretary of state.

The Mutual Benefit Health and Accident Assn. reported payment to lobbyist Richard F. Proud of $492.40 for June expenses.

Dr. Crowe Named To Head NU Field Staff In Turkey

. . . Dr. Hoiberg Returning To Lincoln

Dr. Crowe Dr. Hoiberg

Dr. Lawrence K. Crowe, associate chief of the University of Nebraska field staff in Turkey, was named to succeed Dr. Otto Hoiberg who has completed his two-year assignment as head of the mission.

Dr. Crowe's promotion to chief of staff was approved Thursday by the University's Board of Regents.

Dr. Hoiberg, who is on leave from the University faculty as co-ordinator of community services for the Extension Division, will return to Lincoln in September.

The University Mission in Turkey, financed by a contract with the U.S. International Co-operation Administration, is providing technical advice and assistance to Turkey in building its new Ataturk University and in strengthening Ankara University.

9 Faculty Members

At present, the mission is staffed by 9 faculty members, including Dr. Hoiberg and Dr. Carl J. Schneider, associate professor of political science, who are completing their two-year assignments.

In other action, the Board routinely accepted the tendered resignation of Merton C. Bernstein as associate professor of law effective Sept. 1 to accept other employment.

Bernstein's unexpected resignation came earlier this week following Unicameral controversy over University hiring practices and a labor-management bill drafted by Bernstein for Gov. Ralph Brooks.

In resigning the faculty post, Bernstein said his continued role could only be to serve as "an immobile political punching bag."

Moss Resigns

Also accepted was the resignation of Dr. J. Joel Moss, associate professor of home economics since 1956, who has accepted a research professor position with Southern Illinois University.

Other Board action:

—Appointed Mrs. Olga Ellen Steele, Lincoln, as foreign student advisor on a half-time basis in place of Dr. George W. Rosenlof who has retired; Dr. Rayfred L. Stevens as assistant professor of geography, formerly with Bahai Institute in Brazil, and Dr. Richard E. Bradley as assistant professor of oral pathology, formerly on the Creighton University faculty.

—Approved changing the name of Box Butte Farm to Box Butte Experiment Station.

—Accepted research and training grants totaling $34,652.

—Accepted for filing the Executive Committee report on the College of Law. Report contents were publicized earlier.

Cindy Brings Welcome Rain

Charleston, S. C. (AP)—Tropical storm Cindy, which did only temporary duty as a hurricane, whirled slowly northward across the Carolinas Thursday, bringing welcome rain to parched farmlands and cities.

Except for wind gusts and fairly high tides, Cindy had few of the hallmarks of a hurricane when she bumped ashore at 9:45 o'clock Wednesday night, about 25 miles north of here.

Gusts of 60-70 miles an hour were recorded then, tides hit a peak of 2½ feet above normal at 11 p.m. at Georgetown, 60 miles up the coast. By then Cindy was coming unglued. Her center spread out. Damage reports were minor.

Islanders' Taxes Cut

Wellington, New Zealand (AP)—Cuts in personal taxation of 17 million pounds ($47.6 million) were announced Thursday. Installment buying restrictions were also removed from all commodities except autos and motorcycles.

Santa Monica, Calif. (UPI)—Scotland-born actress Deborah Kerr and her British actor-husband Anthony Bartley Thursday were divorced after a marriage of 13 years.

Bartley, who is in London, did not contest the divorce which was obtained on the grounds of cruelty. He previously successfully petitioned in England to have the couple's two children made wards of the court.

Topeka Reds Call 2-1 Halt To Lincoln's 3-I Win String

Lehman's Errors Ruin Pitching Bid

Lincoln Star Special

Topeka, Kan.—Two errors on routine infield plays were the chief villians here Thursday night as Three-I League pacesetter Lincoln's win streak was halted at 7 straight.

Topeka's Reds were the opportunists who took advantage of a pair of costly bobbles by the losers' Chuck Lehman that accounted for both their runs during a 2-1 win.

The loss was a heartbreaker for Lincoln's Joel Horlen, who limited the winners to 5 hits while his teammates picked up 10 off the deliveries of Topeka righthander Grant Halsne.

Horlen, delivering Lincoln's 8th straight complete game pitching performance, lost after retiring the first two Topeka batters in the 8th inning.

Chief second baseman Lehman then went after an apparently easy ground ball off the bat of the Reds' Marty Rosell but failed to come up with the inning-ending play.

Sensing the turn of events, catcher Don Pavletich then promptly singled to right field sending Rosell to 3rd. Dick Beall, who walked in 3 previous appearances at the plate, then singled sharply into left field scoring Rosell with the counter that broke a 1-1 dead lock.

Horlen, who dropped his second decision against one victory, met with equal misfortune when the hosts rallied from a 1-0 deficit in the 4th.

This time, with the sacks jammed and two men out, Lehman left second base on a force play too soon and allowed the Reds' Jim Niemann to plate the tying run.

Horlen and Halsne, ex-Big 8 Conference rivals from Oklahoma State and Iowa State respectively, were on even terms until Topeka got its break late in the contest.

Lincoln had Halsne on the ropes early in the game but could never apply the knockout punch. The Chiefs collected 6 of their 10-hit total in the first 3 innings but scored only when Deacon Jones rifled a ground-rule double into the right field corner in the opening frame.

Halsne survived a 3-single Lincoln second inning when Gene Martin was cut down on an attempted stolen base.

Lincoln's only other threat died in the 5th when Don Bacon was nipped at the plate while trying to score from 3rd on Jim Lynn's fly ball to right.

Braves Dropped To Third

Craig's Brilliant Relief Stint Elevates Dodgers

Milwaukee (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers climbed into second place in the National League Thursday night with a 4-3, 13-inning victory over the Milwaukee Braves who toppled from first to 3rd when stopped on the brilliant 11-inning, 3-hit relief pitching of Roger Craig.

The San Francisco Giants beat Cincinnati 3-2 to take over 1st place. The Braves fell a full game behind while the Dodgers are a half-game out.

The deciding run crossed on Wally Moon's one-out double and Rip Repulski's single through the box. It was the 4th hit for Moon who banged 3 singles.

The victory was the 4th without a defeat for the 28-year-old Craig who was recalled from Spokane in the Pacific Coast League about a month ago. The 6-4 righthander came on in the second and immediately settled the Dodgers by retiring 14 Braves in a row.

The first Milwaukee hit off Craig was a single by starter Joe Jay. Craig, sent by the Dodgers to Spokane late in the 1958 season, then retired 12 more before Joe Adcock doubled in the 11th. The only other hit he allowed was Wes Covington's single in the 12th.

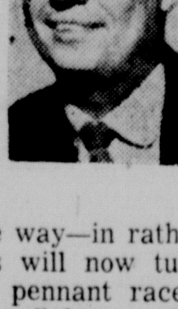
POINT BLANK



By Don Bryant

Sports Editor, The Star

Back To The Grind

With the first All Star game out of the way—in rather unspectacular fashion—the major leagues will now turn their attentions toward the all-important pennant races.

Both the American and National League fights are far from settled, and a prolonged winning streak by a first division club could upset the apple cart.

In the National, Milwaukee has the edge because the Braves have lost less games, but San Francisco, Los Angeles and Pittsburgh are all in title contention—bunched within 3½ games.

Over in the American, the big question is whether or not the New York Yankees can come from 5 games back to repeat for the umpteenth time.

Only 8 games separate the 6th place Washington Senators from the front-running Cleveland Indians, testifying to the balanced mediocrity of the most interesting AL chase in years.

Baseball tradition—not based on fact—says the Braves and the Indians will win their respective races since they were the All Star Game break leaders.

But the races are so tight that nothing is certain. I'd certainly hate to bet against the Yankees, even though there's no doubt about their pitching being below par this year.

Certainly the San Francisco Giants can't be discounted in the National. And perhaps Dick Stuart can propel the Pirates like he did last year.

All things considered, both major leagues are just about starting from scratch. So it should be a very interesting July-August-September.

My April predictions were New York and Pittsburgh. The Pirates may be the best bet, but the Yankees are still in a position to be there when the bell rings.

Ekwall Weds

Former Nebraska basketball star Rex Ekwall is a recent bridegroom. He married Miss Loretta Dixon and the newly-weds are residing at Ft. Sill, Okla., where Rex is soldiering. . . . Kansas football coach Jack Mitchell is counting on Jim Reich to boost the Jayhawks' frosh football pool this fall. Jim is the younger brother of Gil Reich, who got the boot from West Point during the cribbing scandal and transferred to KU where he was standout back and cager during the 1952-53 seasons.

Inge All The Way

Recent visitor Al Sweeney, the major domo of National Speedways promises another roaring big car program at the Nebraska State Fair.

The smiling Irishman who just recently moved from a Chicago penthouse to the sunny clime of Tampa, Fla., wasn't the least bit surprised when Ingemar Johansson upended Floyd Patterson.

"I picked Johansson all the way and I'll do it again in the rematch," Al said. "He's ogt a good punch and he's in great physical shape."

Just A Rumor

A. Q. Schimmel, president of the Lincoln Chiefs, may be in line for the Chicago White Sox manager's job after the Directors' win over the P-R-TV All Stars.

But A. Q. indicated after the game the only way he would consider the job would be if he could take Ira Hutchinson and Ray Mueller with him, not as coaches, but as umpires.

First Pari-Mutuel Racing Tax In State Pays $403,127

Omaha (AP) — The state of Nebraska received its take from horse-race betting at Ak-Sar-Ben Thursday, a total of $403,127.06.

The president of the Omaha civic organization, Melvin Bekins, presented a check made out to the state general revenue fund to State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington.

The money represents the state's two per cent tax on pari-mutuel betting, imposed by the Legislature this year through LB 658.

J. J. Isaacson, Ak-Sar-Ben general manager, submitted an affidavit listing the total amount wagered in 37 days of racing from May 15 to July 4 as $21,156,353. The first million dollars was exempt from the tax, under the law.

In addition to betting, Isaacson said racing at Ak-Sar-Ben produced more than $58,000 in admission taxes and $7,400 in daily license fees. This money goes to the State Racing Commission, he added.

Tribe Recalls Smith

Cleveland (AP)—The Cleveland Indians have recalled Bob (Riverboat) Smith, a left-handed pitcher, from their San Diego farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

Smith, 31, had a 4-2 record at San Diego. Last season he pitched with the Boston Red Sox. To make room for Smith on the roster, the Indians earlier sold relief hurler Dick Brodowski to Toronto of the International League.

Fox Cities' Home Runs Blast Soos

Sioux City (AP) — Three Fox Cities homers accounted for 6 runs and paved the way to an 8-6 Three-I League victory over Sioux City Thursday night.

Carlos Pascual hit the big blow, a two-run shot with two out in the 9th inning that broke up a 6-6 deadlock. Other Appleton round-trippers were by Chuck Weatherspoon and Rene Nodarse.

Alex George hit a 3-run homer in the 7th to put the Soos in a 5-4 lead.

Fast-Moving Willie Scuttles Reds, 3-2

Cincinnati (AP) — Willie Mays showed his fabled speed afoot Thursday night, darting in with the winning run for San Francisco's Giants during a 3-2 decision over Cincinnati's Reds. It made Fred Hutchinson's debut as Redleg manager a losing one.

It gave the Giants the National League lead by half a game over Los Angeles and a full game over Milwaukee.

Mays, in the 9th inning, singled off Red reliefer Tom Acker, and promptly swiped second base. Daryl Spencer then pushed a single through the box, and Mays went all the way home.

Philadelphia (AP) — Gene Conley, backed by Gene Freese's grand slam home run and a 17-hit Philadelphia attack, shut out St. Louis 11-0 here Thursday night in the opener of a twi-night double-header.

The Cardinals bounced back and took the nightcap 6-2, battering Robin Roberts (7-8) for 5 runs and 8 hits before knocking him out of the box in the 5th inning. Larry Jackson (8-7) went the route for the Cardinals, spacing 7 hits.

Chisox' Pierce Cuts Gap

. . . Bests Tribe, 4-3

Chicago (AP) — Jim Landis drove in 3 runs and Bubba Phillips contributed a game-deciding homer to rocket the Chicago White Sox over the Cleveland Indians 4-3 Thursday night.

Billy Pierce won a battle of lefties with Herb Score, who was lifted in the 7th inning for a pinch hitter.

Pierce, who yielded 5 hits, including Jim Baxes No. 6 homer in the 7th, boosted his record to 9-10, while Score absorbed his 6th loss against 9 victories. Score gave up 4 hits but walked 6 and fanned two.

Landis' sacrifice fly in the first inning scored Luis Aparicio, who had singled stole second and gained third when Nellie Fox was out at first.

The Indians, whose league lead was trimmed to one game by the 2nd place Sox, picked up two unearned runs in the 2nd with the aid of bad throws by Phillips and Pierce, a walk and Dick Brown's single.

The Sox went ahead to stay with two runs in the 5th on walks to Phillips and Aparicio, a single by Fox and Landis' bases-filled single.

Washington (AP)—A pair of 20-year-old Baltimore righthanders, Milt Pappas and Jerry Walker, stilled the Washington home run bats here Thursday night as the Orioles shut out the Senators 8-0 and 5-0 before a Ladies Night crowd of 25,773.

It was the first time the Senators have been shut out in a double header since Cleveland did it on Sept. 18, 1956.

Elroy Face Gains 18th Straight Relief Victory

. . . Bucs Win In 10th, 4-3

Pittsburgh (AP) — Relief pitcher Elroy Face gained his 18th consecutive victory, 13th this season, as the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-3 Thursday night on Harry Bright's pinch-hit single in the 10th inning.

Face, the majors' top winner and unbeaten since May 30 of last year, tied a Pirate record with the 13 consecutive successes in one year set by Deacon Phillipe in 1910.

Roberto Clemente, who had been on the disabled list with a sore elbow since May 25, entered the lineup and started the Pirates' 10th inning rally with a single to left. Roman Mejias sacrificed Clemente to second, and he scored from there on Bright's single.

The loss was charged to Bill Henry, now 5-4, the last of 3 Cub pitchers.

Sam Taylor sparked the Cubs' attack, collecting two singles and two doubles in 4 trips to the plate.

Dale Long belted a tremendous 440-foot triple off the center field wall in the 4th inning. Lee Walls and Irv Noren also came through with triples for the Cubs.

The Cubs got their first run in the 7th when Walls tripled and scored on Sam Taylor's single past first through a drawn-up infield.

The Pirates took a 3-1 lead in the 7th when they knocked the Cubs' starting pitcher, Bob Anderson, out of the box. Singles by Smoky Burgess, Bob Skinner and Bill Mazeroski added up to one run in that frame.

Anderson was lifted at that point and Don Elston came on in relief with one out and runners at first and second. The first batter he faced, Don Hoak, doubled over left fielder Jim Marshall's head, scoring Skinner and Mazeroski. After giving up a scratch single to Clemente, Elston retired the next two batters to end the rally.

Experience Vs. Youth In TV Bout

Portland, Ore. (AP) — Denny Moyer, still in his teens, gets a crack at champion Don Jordan's welterweight boxing title tonight.

Jordan, an experienced Los Angeles body puncher with a 45-11 record, wound up training Thursday by reiterating his belief he will stop the fast, young Moyer short of the scheduled 15 rounds.

It will be an outdoor bout at Portland Meadows Race Track, televised over NBC starting at 6 p.m. PST (8 p.m. CST.) Promoter Tommy Moyer, Denny's uncle, said he expects a crowd of 10,000 and a gate of $100,000.

The forecast is for fair weather with the temperature near 72 degrees.

The 25-year-old Jordan said he has a $70,000 guarantee. Young Moyer's cut has not been disclosed.

Moyer is 19 and has had 20 professional fights. He won them all. He also had 82 bouts as an amateur. He won the National AAU welterweight title in 1957, the year before he turned pro.

A member of a fighting Portland family—brother Phil is a boxer, as were his father and uncle—he won his shot at the title with decisions this year over Gaspar Ortega and Vince Martinez, both highly regarded welterweights. Ring Magazine ranks Moyer the No. 2 contender, the National Boxing Assn. ranks him No. 5.

Should Moyer upset Jordan, he would become the youngest champion ever in the welterweight division.

The Oregon Journal said Eastern bookmakers were requiring a $12 bet on Jordan in order to make a $5 profit. A bettor backing Moyer would have to put up $9 for a chance at a $5 profit, the newspaper said. No local odds were available.

Both fighters said they were within ounces of 147 pounds, and did not expect to have trouble making the required 147 at the 10 a.m. weigh-in.

Both men are noted for their boxing skill, but for this bout at least Jordan will start with the reputation as the harder hitter.

Moyer is convinced he will win—and for the same reason that has made Jordan confident: they faced each other in a training ring last year.

Moyer calls Jordan a counter-puncher. He said he intends to try to force Jordan to switch to making leads, allowing Moyer to use his speed in countering.

A's Throttle Tigers Twice

. . . Cerv Belts Pair

Kansas City (AP) — Ray Herbert and Johnny Kucks gave the Detroit Tigers a double coat of whitewash Thursday night as the Kansas City Athletics won their doubleheader 5-0 and 4-0.

Herbert threw a 5-hitter in the first game and struck out 10 while besting Frank Lary, the forgotten man of Tuesday's All-Star game.

Kucks had any no-hit ideas blasted by leadoff hitter Eddie Yost's first inning single in the 2nd game but the big righthander didn't give up another until the 5th and finished with a stylish 5-hitter.

The double-barreled defeat was the Tigers' 6th in a row, the longest losing streak they have had since manager Jimmy Dykes took over from Bill Norman.

Bob Cerv furnished the home run heroics in both games. His second inning homer in the opener sealed Lary's defeat and set his won lost record at 6-9. Cerv hit his 11th homer in the 6th inning of the second game. It came with Roger Maris on base with a single after Bill Tuttle had led off the inning with a roundtripper off starter Ray Narleski.

Campbell Shoots 65 For Lead

. . . In Western

Pittsburgh (AP)—Chunky Joe Campbell, a former Purdue University basketball player, fired a course record 65 over the rolling hills and slick greens of Pittsburgh Field Club Thursday to grab the opening lead in the par-busting first round of the Western Open golf championship.

Campbell came in early with his score, 5 below standard figure, for the 6,625-yard layout. Staggering a bit on the final two holes, he barely missed a 63 which, he said, would have made it "the best round of my life."

With his lead score firmly recorded, Joe had to sweat it out in the clubhouse as the local favorite made a final run for the lead. Burly Arnold Palmer, the former Masters Champion from Ligonier, Pa., stroked a smooth 34 on the front nine, then came home in 33 for a 67 in one of the last threesomes on the course.

Aging Boston Sluggers Crush New York, 14-3

Boston (AP) — Boston crushed the New York Yankees 14-3 Thursday night under the heavy barrage of aging sluggers Ted Williams, Bobby Avila and Vic Wertz.

It was the most runs scored against the Yanks this year, bettering Detroit's total of 13.

Off to a 2-0 lead in the second inning on solo homers by Wertz and Williams, the rejuvenated Red Sox wrapped it up with 7 more in the 3rd before a season's high Fenway Park crowd of 30,253.

Frank Sullivan beat the New Yorkers for only the 3rd time in 13 decisions on a 6 hitter.

Avila, 33-year-old utility infielder batting a meek .174, made recently appointed manager Billy Jurges look good by driving across 4 tallies on a pair of home runs. The 1954 American League batting champion got his chance when Jurges decided to rest Pete Runnels, the club's top hitter.

Avila's 3-run blast hit off loser Bob Turley that touched off the biggest Boston inning of 1959 came on a 3-2 pitch after he had been behind in the count 0-2. He stroked his second to lead off the 4th and scored on Jackie Jensen's double after walking in the 6th. He also singled in the 7th.

Williams slammed his 6th homer of the season and 488th of his major league career over the visitor's bullpen in right field.

Ted, who will be 41 next month, greeted reliever Jim Coates with a two-run double in the 3rd. The drive hit high off the wall at the 379 foot mark next to the center field flag pole.

Optimists Fall 10-8 To G.I. 9

Opportunist Grand Island American Legion Junior baseballers waded through erratic Lincoln Optimist fielding for 8 unearned runs at Sherman Field Thursday night, squeaking by with a 10-8 decision during a return match.

Optimist righthander Jim Ammerman bore the brunt of his team's 4 errors, being charged with 7 runs before departing in the second inning.

Six unearned counters in that frame left Grand Island with a 7-2 bulge, and the host Lincolnites never quite caught up.

Denny Puelz sparked the Optimist offense with a pair of doubles and a single in 5 official trips. Manager Bob Lohrberg's crew, now 10-4 on the season, hosts Fremont at Elks Field Saturday night.

AL Sets Late '60 Openers

Chicago (AP) — The American League will open its 1960 baseball season one week later than the National League it was announced Thursday.

After a 4-hour meeting, the American League announced it will open its season April 19 and close Oct. 2.

The National League immediately announced an April 12 opening next year and a similar Oct. 2 closing date.

Joe Cronin, American League president, said the later opening date improves the prospects for better weather. Both leagues this year opened April 9 and closed Sept. 27.

Warren Giles, president of the National League, said:

"Because of travel requirements, we need 172 to 174 days to satisfactorily play 154 games. Because of the World Series, both leagues should close the same date and we can offer our clubs the best schedule between April 12 and Oct. 2."

The American League also adopted the suspended game rule which goes into effect immediately. This means a game halted before 9 innings are played because of curfew, light failure or time limits will be played from the point of suspension until completion.

However, if a game goes over 9 innings and is halted because of any of these reasons it will be replayed completely.

Cronin said club representatives discussed the inter league trading rule and voted on it. However, he would not say whether the vote was for or against the rule through which one league can trade with the other from Nov. 20 to Dec. 15 without obtaining waivers from the other clubs in the league. Last December the American League voted 7 to 1 in favor of the rule. It does not appear the league has changed its stand.

This vote will be presented to baseball commissioner Ford Frick today at a joint meeting of the National and American leagues.

Green Bay Rips Des Moines, 9-3

Des Moines (AP) — Green Bay stayed undefeated in the second half of the Three-I League season by dealing the Des Moines Demons a 9-3 defeat Thursday night.

Fran Boniar batted in 6 of the Green Bay runs before a Ladies Night crowd of 2,189.

Winner Pete Richert allowed 9 hits but had trouble only from Al Kenders, who knocked in two runs with a double, home run and single.

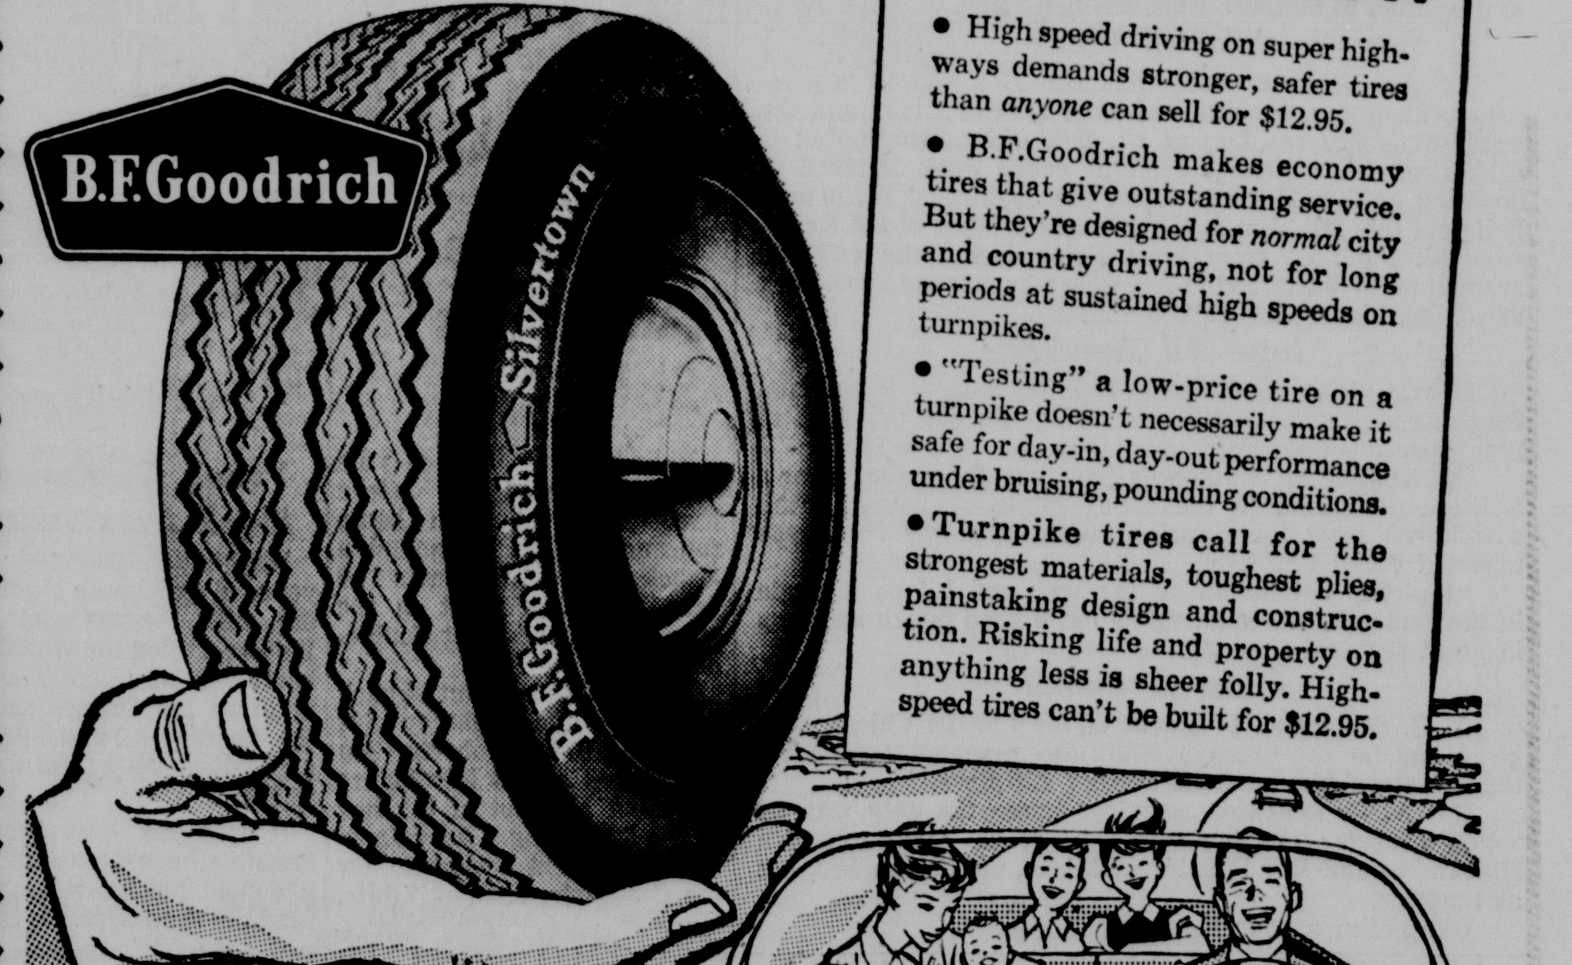
$12.95 TIRES ARE NOT FOR TURNPIKES



READ THE FACTS BEFORE YOU BUY!

- High speed driving on super highways demands stronger, safer tires than anyone can sell for $12.95.
- B.F.Goodrich makes economy tires that give outstanding service. But they're designed for normal city and country driving, not for long periods at sustained high speeds on turnpikes.
- "Testing" a low-price tire on a turnpike doesn't necessarily make it safe for day-in, day-out performance under bruising, pounding conditions.
- Turnpike tires call for the strongest materials, toughest plies, painstaking design and construction. Risking life and property on anything less is sheer folly. High-speed tires can't be built for $12.95.

Business 'Boom' Threatening State

14.7% Higher Than Year Ago

Nebraska's business conditions are continuing to improve, "amounting almost to the threat of a boom," according to the July issue of Business in Nebraska.

The monthly bulletin published by the University of Nebraska department of business research said Thursday:

"Nebraska is even higher compared with last year, than the U.S. as a whole, despite the fact that the state did not sink so low in the recession."

According to the bulletin, the physical volume of business in April was 14.7% above a year ago, while the U.S. Average was only up 8.9%.

In May, the retail sales showed a 4.8% increase over a year ago and 0.6% higher than the preceding month.

Alliance Leads

Alliance showed the biggest increase, with a 19.8% rise over a year ago.

In unadjusted city indexes, based upon bank debits, building activity, retail sales, electricity and gas consumed, water pumped, postal receipts and newspaper advertising, the following increases were recorded:

Chadron, 14.1%; Norfolk and Scottsbluff, both 11.8; Alliance, 11.0; Hastings, 10.2; Columbus and Falls City, both 9.2; Omaha, 7.6; Lincoln and Beatrice, both 7.4; Nebraska City, 7.3; Kearney 6.4; North Platte, 5.9; Grand Island, 5.4; York, 2.6; Fremont, 2.4; and McCook. 1.8.

Showing decreases were: Broken Bow, down 0.5, and Holdrege, down, 0.6.

Bad Pleasanton Blaze Town's 2nd Disaster Within 11 Days

Pleasanton, Neb. (AP)—A fire early Thursday caused an estimated $40,000 to $50,000 damage and left a gaping hole in the east side of the Pleasanton business district.

Four business places were badly damaged or destroyed in the blaze which raged out of control for 3 hours in the early morning. Firemen from Pleasanton, Ravenna and Kearney fought the fire.

Authorities said the blaze started in Fred Vokoun's cafe then spread to Geisler's Feed Store, the Davis Barber Shop and Karsten's Cafe. Karsten's was gutted, the others destroyed.

Cause of the blaze was undetermined. The fire also knocked out power lines to the south half of the town of 188 people.

It was the second disaster in Pleasanton in less than two weeks. Just 11 days ago a wind and hail storm battered the community destroying crops and damaging trees.

5 Pacifists Receive Suspended Sentences, Under Probation

Omaha (AP)—Five of 7 Omaha Action Pacifists received suspended sentences when they appeared before Federal Judge Richard Robinson on federal trespassing charges Thursday.

The 5 were placed on probation for one year. Fines against them were also suspended.

Two others had sentencing delayed at their own request.

Given suspended sentences of 6 months in a federal institution and suspended fines were:

The Rev. A. J. Muste, New York; Ross Anderson, Americus, Ga.; Karl Meyer, Chicago; Wilmer J. Young, Willingford, Pa., and David P. Wyland, Toledo, Ohio.

All had pleaded guilty to charges of being found on a military installation after being removed and warned not to return.

The arrests were made during the last 8 days at the Nebraska Ordnance Plant near Mead, where the pacifists are protesting construction of an Atlas missile base.

"I have no alternative but to find each and every one of you guilty as charged," Judge Robinson said, and then ordered the 5 to remain away from the Mead Depot.

"You will not loiter, maintain a vigil or go near the place," Judge Robinson said. He added that the order applied to "all military installation reservations in Nebraska and the rest of the United States."

40,000 Acres Crops Lost In Valley County

Ord, Neb.—An estimated 40,000 acres of crops were slashed to ribbons and crop prospects dimmed on at least 100 Valley County farms in the recent severe rain and hailstorm, observers say.

Some corn will recover, but some will not, officials predict. Small grains were an apparent total loss.

Crop loss in the storm, extending from Taylor to Wolbach, was estimated at well over $1 million.

$274,000 IS ALLOCATED FOR SEWAGE PROJECTS

The U.S. Public Health Service at Kansas City notified State Sanitation Director T. A. Filipi Thursday to plan on a $274,000 allocation to Nebraska pending further enactment of the 1960 fiscal year appropriation act.

The telegram said that this amount was assigned to Nebraska as federal aid for pollution abatement projects pending enactment of the appropriation act.

Earlier, Filipi said that if the President signs the current water pollution abatement appropriation bill, Nebraska would receive $686,850.

This amount would be more than enough federal funds to meet requirements for 17 Nebraska pollution abatement projects whose applications for federal aid already have been filed.

However, he said, if the state receives the lesser amount, the state water pollution control council will have to determine priorities for the funds.

The federal government puts up to 30% in federal funds in the projects. Cities supply the rest.

The total federal funds required for the 17 applications on file are $589,605, he said.

In 1957 the state received $661,075; in 1958 it received $675,000 in federal funds and for the 1959 fiscal year which ended June 30, the state's allocation was $683,850

The 17 projects are ready to go, he said, pending approval probably this month by the state water pollution control council.

Top ranking priority, he said, are treatment facilities to clear Missouri River pollution at Bellevue, Nebraska City and Plattsmouth.

Other projects with applications in are Sargent, East Sarpy County, Hickman, Guide Rock, McCool Junction, Schuyler, Giltner, Fort Calhoun, Western, Palmyra, Hampton, Bladen, Hebron and Ulysses.

Filipi said the Ulysses project is the final one on the Blue River. Only Franklin remains on the Republican River, he said, but that community has not yet filed an application.

Cheyenne County Harvesting Begins

By The Associated Press

The whopping job of harvesting wheat from 185,000 acres of Cheyenne County land has begun.

The first loads have been arriving at two Sidney elevators.

The early cuttings were isolated, however.

Denver elevators reported they had received about 1,200 bushels in 6 loads from Frank Kurz who farms southwest of Sidney.

Elevator Manager Don Wells said the wheat tested 60 pounds with a 13.70 moisture content. Kurz, who said he got 50 bushels to the acre last year, said he expects the crop to hit 40 this year.

Elsewhere in the area, farmers were eager to get started but samples tested were too wet and the elevators cautioned the farmers to hold off until the grain is dryer. Some cutting will be done this weekend but the big push is not expected until next week.

An average yield of 30 bushels per acre would give Cheyenne County a yield of around five and one-half million bushels of wheat.

This would be about one million bushels less than last year, but still considered to be exceptional in view of increased acreage cuts and diversions to other crops in the face of wheat surpluses.

For the Nebraska Panhandle, the 1959 wheat yield forecast now stands around 20 million bushels, which would be far short of the record 25 million of last year.

In Polk, Farmer's Elevator Manager Dean Myers reported Paul Stevens had sold the first wheat to the elevator this season. It tested 14.5 moisture content and 58 pounds. The yield was about 25 bushels an acre.

At Hordville elevator manager Dwayne Hahn said Arlo Stevens' first load there tested 12.5 and 58. The yield was about 28 bushels an acre.

The situation by areas:

Hastings—Wheat harvest 20 to 35% completed, with a general area-wide surplus of men and machines.

Kearney-Holdrege — Harvest estimated 75 to 80% complete, with completion by the weekend likely. Temporary wheat harvest office at the fair grounds in Holdrege closed as of Wednesday night.

McCook—Heavy grain cuttng continues. Harvest should be pretty well completed in a couple of days. Machines through the McCook port of entry Tuesday totaled 58, bringing the season's total to 974.

North Platte—Lincoln County reports harvest 25% completed; Perkins County about half completed. Manpower and equipment sufficient.

Kearney College Post For Hunt

Kearney, Neb. (AP)—Dr. Lester W. Hunt of Lincoln has been named as dean of administration at Kearney State Teachers College.

Dr. Hunt has been director of school district reorganization in the State Education Department.

Kearney Teachers President Herbert L. Cushing said Dr. Hunt will assume his new duties about mid-August.

Norfolk Man, 21 Is Polio Patient

Omaha (AP)—Melvin Piekny of Norfolk was reported in fair condition at St. Joseph Hospital Thursday where he is undergoing treatment for polio.

Piekny, 21, is Madison County's first polio case of the year. He had not received any polio shots.

Ex-Sen. Daniel Garber Dies; Rites Saturday

Daniel Garber, 84, retired stockman and a former longtime legislator, died Thursday in Lincoln. He resided at 3631 Otoe Street.

Mr. Garber

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Saturday at St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church. Burial will follow at 3:30 p.m. at the cemetery at Red Cloud.

He served in the Unicameral from 1937 to 1947 from the 32nd district, and earlier had been a representative in the Bicameral. He was a delegate to the 1912 and 1916 Republican national conventions.

Born at Nelson, Mr. Garber lived in the Republican Valley area most of his life, including Red Cloud, Cowles, Inavale and Superior.

In 1943 he introduced the legislative bill providing funds for consturction of the Nebraska State Historical Society building in Lincoln, and in 1952 laid the cornerstone to begin construction of the $378,000 building. A plaque honoring Mr. Garber hangs in the new Historical Society building.

Nebraska News

Mr. Garber formerly served as a board member of the society.

His mother, Catherine Schaefer Garber, was the first white woman settler in the Republican Valley. His father was a Civil War veteran.

Surviving are one son, Dan Jr. of Olean, N.Y.; two daughters, Mrs. H. E. Nore of Genoa and Mrs. Ruth Dankas of Lincoln; and 5 grandchildren.

Johnson Wants Compromise On Vetoed Housing Measure

Washington (UPI) — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) said Thursday he expects the Senate to try to override President Eisenhower's veto of the big Democratic housing bill.

Johnson predicted the Senate vote would be close. But he saw little chance that the bill could be enacted over the President's veto and said he was "exploring the possibility of working out some sort of compromise."

"I don't know if there are enough votes to override the veto in the Senate," he said. "I feel reasonably sure that there are not the votes to override it in the House. We're trying to work out some kind of agreement."

the votes by which both the House and Senate originally approved the bill fell short of the two-thirds majority needed to override a veto.

Johnson called Eisenhower's veto an example of the administration's "confusing" spending course.

In March, Johnson continued, "the President tells us that the whole security of the nation depends upon $4.5 billion worth of 'backdoor spending' for the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank. In July we are told that the future of the nation rests upon stopping a little bit of backdoor spending to put roofs over the heads of our families."

Johnson told the Senate the Democrats have "become somewhat philosophical." But he said it would be "helpful" if "somebody would just lay down a few ground rules for this course."

BRIBE-TAKING DENIED FOR EX-SEN. BENDER

Washington (AP)—"It's a damnable lie and I resent it," former Sen. George H. Benders (R-Ohio) cried out against any thought that he has taken a bribe.

The ex-senator, now employed by President James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters union, was a voluntary witness before the Senate Rackets Committee.

He shouted his "lie" retort after chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) recalled some of the previous testimony.

McClellan said one witness implied that an investigation Bender made into Ohio teamster matters in 1954, when he was a house member, was dropped after teamster money was collected "to pull strings."

"No charges were dropped," Bender declared. "No strings were pulled with me."

Bender saw the whole thing as a sly attempt by committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy to strike at Hoffa through him.

Hoffa hired Bender last August, first at $250 a day and later for $125, to see if there was any corruption in the teamsters union—an arrangement scoffed at by Kennedy and the senators who say Hoffa has loaded the union with underworld figures and shady characters of various degree.

But Bender assured the senators the teamsters headquarters "reminds me of a church office."

Laughter broke out. Bender ignored it.

He went on to say there is no gambling, no drinking around headquarters.

Demos Rap President

Some Continue Firing At Butler

Washington (AP) — Democratic Senate leaders lit into President Eisenhower Thursday for vetoing domestic housing legislation while pressing for more foreign aid spending.

Majority leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) told the Senate that eventually "the cloak of hypocrisy is going to be torn from some of this propaganda."

"What's good for Burma ought to be good for the United States." Johnson said.

The assistant Democratic leader, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, said Eisenhower was demanding "every dime the administration asks" for foreign aid and at the same time putting domestic needs on a basis of "not all or nothing but little or nothing."

Doane Given $60,000 Gift

Crete, Neb.—A $60,000 grant by the Higher Education Division of the Board of Home Missions of the Congregational Christian Churches has boosted the Greater Doane Development Program over the $374,000 mark.

Word of the grant was given to Dr. Donald M. Typer, president of Doane College, at the Board of Home Missions' annual meeting in Oberlin, O.

Dr. Typer said the grant is for unrestricted use by the college. It is the second grant to Doane in recent years by the Board of Home Missions, another $20,000 gift having been presented in 1956.

CONRAD SEES NEW SCRIBNER BRIDGE

Discussing last-minute finishing touches to the new, $137,000 bridge across the Elkhorn River at Scribner Thursday were (from left) Scribner Mayor John Lamberty, Robert Conrad, Administrative assistant to Gov. Ralph Brooks, and County Bridge Supervisor Ed Meyer. The shiny new metal railing of the bridge may be seen against the old Elkhorn bridge in the background, built in the early 1900s. Modern Elkhorn Span Dedicated At Scribner

By Charles Beal

Scribner, Neb. — As busy farmers shuttled their combines in an out of town for repairs in the midst of a steaming, busy July wheat harvest Thursday, state and local dignitaries gathered here to dedicate a spanking new bridge across the Elkhorn River.

The need for the new bridge, connecting Scribner with the county highway east to Herman, can probably best be told by the ominous creaks and groans of its nearby rusty predecessor built in the early 1900s.

Among those on hand to dedicate the new, $137,000 span were Robert Conrad, administrative assistant to Gov. Ralph Brooks; Jack Obbink, state aeronautics director, and State Sen. Ray Simmons of Fremont.

Chief among those who pushed efforts to get the new bridge built were 3 Scribner businessmen, Clarence Zucker, Edgar Havekost and former Mayor Oscar Aldrich.

Celebration Held

A celebration for the entire community was held Thursday with an American Legion baseball game in the afternoon and at 4:30 p.m. the official dedication. A band concert followed in the evening.

Mayor John Lamberty welcomed visitors and local citizens at the ceremony. County Supervisor Ed Meyer cut a ribbon officially opening the bridge to traffic.

The bridge has been in use about a week, however, Aldrich said.

Sen. Simmons told those assembled at the bridge that "completion of the Scribner bridge is another step in keeping our highways up to date so we can continue to progress.

Mormon Trail

"The Oregon and Mormon trail went across Nebraska as did later the Pony Express and the first cross-country telegraph, railroad, highway and airfield routes. The first cross-country super-highway will shortly go through our state.

"If Nebraska is to continue to progress in agriculture and industry, we must deliver our products to the large market centers," he said.

"For this we must maintain a good system of highways and roads," he added.

Earlier, the assemblage had gathered in the city park and then paraded to the bridge headed the Scribner School Band.

New Span

The new concrete and steel span replaces a narrow, decrepit steel structure which would not, for practical purposes, admit two-way traffic.

"Most folks just stopped and let the car nearest the bridge go first," said Havecost.

Main fear was that a car would collide with one of the weakened supporting struts along the side railings, thus toppling the other supports like dominoes.

Cost of the new bridge was financed by 50% federal funds and 50% from the Dodge County share of state gasoline tax money allocated to the county for road building.

Contractor was the Capital Bridge Company of Lincoln.

Electrocution Of Clarence Suess Ruled Accidental

The death of retired fireman Clarence Suess of 305½ So. 11th has been ruled accidental, according to Dep. Co. Atty. Paul Douglas.

Suess apparently died when he touched an air conditioner with defective wiring Wednesday and was electrocuted, Douglas said. He was found dead in his apartment by police.

Police originally had believed Suess, 59, had died from natural causes but later investigation revealed severe burns on his shoulder, foot and arm.

SPUCC Votes No Interstate Route Legal Opposition

Elwood, Neb. (AP) The South Platte United Chamber of Commerce cities have voted against taking any legal action in the Interstate Highway dispute.

The member towns had been polled on whether they favored filing an injunction suit to keep the state from building the highway north of the Platte River.

The poll was about 2 to 1 against a suit.

But the group directed its highway committee to continue working to get the final route set south of the river and directed that the committee seek a meeting with the State Highway Commission for further investigation of the two routes.

Also adopted was a second resolution favoring dropping of the 10% federal tax on railroad tickets. The first resolution had been passed last spring and sent to the Nebraska congressional delegation.

Stocks Dip As Profits Taken

New York (AP) — The stock market declined Thursday for the first time in eight sessions as profits were taken on the latest series of advances to historic highs.

Meat packers, rubbers, and some drugs and other selected issues made gains as trading interest rotated from the recent market favorites.

It was a lower market for Steels, motors, rails, aircrafts, electronics, chemicals and electrical equipments.

Volume dipped to 3,560,000 shares from Wednesday's 4,010,000 as the upward drive faltered and this is always regarded as bullish by Wall Street.

The Dow Jones industrial average declined .72 to 66.309.

The various average contain different lists of stocks, thus accounting for a minimum rise of 10 cents in The Associated Press average of 60 stocks, putting this average at a record high of $234.00.

In this case, gains of about a point each by CIT Financial and Kroger, each contained in the AP average but not in the Dow, accounted for the slight discrepancy.

The market as a whole, however, was irregularly lower. Of 1,237 issues traded, 572 declined and 438 advanced. There were 64 new highs for the year and 13 new lows.

Eight of the 15 most active stocks advanced, six declined and one was unchanged, Standard Oil New Jersey.

Corporate bonds were lower in fairly active trading.

U.S. government bonds improved in slow dealings.

Bond sales totaled $5,560,000 par value.

Corn, Soybeans Make Recovery

Chicago (AP)—Corn and new crop soybean futures broke a succession of price declines on the Board of Trade Thursday and made a fairly substantial recovery in spots while wheat again was decidedly weak. Rye was firm to strong, oats easier.

The support for corn and new crop soybeans was ascribed to a forecast for continued generally dry weather over the major producing areas.

The final report by the Department of Agriculture on the amount of corn placed in government loan appeared to have little effect on the market. Brokers said that the small impoundings during May appeared to be viewed as more of a bullish than a bearish factor this time.

Less than 8 million bushels of corn were added to loan stocks during May. On June 15, the total was about 340½ million.

A heavier volume of hedge selling and a slackening of mill and export demand were controlling considerations in the wheat pit. Yugoslavia and Poland were good buyers, taking about 1½ million bushels.

Wheat finished ⅜-1¼ cents a bushel lower on the 1959 crop contracts, July $1.87-86¾, and the 1960 crop months 1 cent lower; corn ⅛-1⅛ higher, July $1.21⅞-22; oats ¼-¾ lower, July new type contract 66⅝-¾; rye ⅜-1¼ higher, July $1.25; soybeans ⅝ lower on July to 1 cent higher on new crop months, July $2.19⅜-¼.

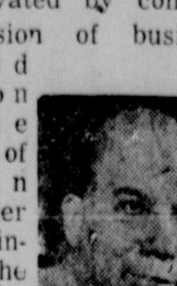
EVERYBODY'S MONEY

Facts And Factors Behind Stock Market Fluctuations

By Merryle S. Rukeyser



Rukeyser

The roaring advance of the stock market averages into historic high ground has been motivated by continuing expansion of business volume and profits on the one hand, and of expectation of further creeping inflation on the other.

That inflation prospects are in the minds of speculators and investors is documented by the decline in high-grade bond prices while stocks have been advancing.

The adjustment of security prices to the long-term cheapening of the dollar through the inflationary process has been taking place—within intermediate interruptions—for ten years.

Until mid-June 1949, and especially in the three-year period starting in 1946, there was disinclination on the part of security buyers to accept the depreciated dollar, with the rise in the cost of living, as a permanent fact of life.

During that earlier interlude ('46-'49) stock prices showed a down-trend despite good post-war business, in which manufacturers and consumers were catching up on the pent-up accumulated unsatisfied wartime demand for civilian products.

While there have been ups and downs in the market in the decade since mid-June 1949, the Dow Jones industrial averages, the commonly accepted ready indicator of speculative and investment patterns, have advanced fourfold. In this broad advance, there were temporary reversals of trend when stock prices declined sharply in connection with economic recessions starting in 1953 and in 1957. The averages lost 40.70 points in a little more than nine months in 1953 and 71.30 points between April 9, 1956 and February 12, 1957. Then the averages later in 1957 between July 16th and October 22nd lost 106.96 points.

In stock market behavior, the number of points to be lost in a corrective reaction bears a relationship to the peak from which the decline starts.

Thus, as speculators and investors plan holdings for the future, even if the roseate expectations of the optimists for great economic growth in the decade of the Nineteen Sixties are fulfilled and if such an up-trend ultimately brings the stock averages to peaks far above the present levels, it would be normal to anticipate sharp and substantial intermediate price declines on the way up.

Those who buy and sell securities are thus ill-advised if their plans do not allow for such fluctuations.

One way to meet the realities is through the technique of dollar cost averaging, whereby the same dollar amounts are deposited monthly, quarterly or annually in precisely the same securities. The result is to get more shares when prices are depressed and fewer shares for the same money when prices are soaring.

But the choice is not limited to the speculative leaders or to the stocks comprising the Dow Jones averages. Up to now the market has been rather selective, with spectacular gains confined to electronics and related industries, machine tools, mail order, food, retailing, missiles and drugs. Other categories, such as banks and tobacco companies, have been much less exploited price-wise. Likewise, liquor, railroad equipment, paper, movies, airlines, and motor parts and accessories have done little or nothing in the last chapter of the upsurge. Some groups this year have actually fallen in price, including gold, sugar, oils and mining other than aluminum, aircraft, building, can companies, electric utilities, and automation.

QUESTION: I would appreciate information describing the socalled variable annuity plan and the insurance companies that dispense this form of annuity. Also do mutual funds offer life insurance to installment plan buyers?

ANSWER: The pilot plan effort in variable annuities, based on common stock investment, has been conducted by the Teachers Annuity and Insurance Company of New York, which caters to the faculty of colleges and private schools. Under an amendment to the New Jersey Law, the Prudential Life Insurance Company is preparing a program for later offering the variable annuity plan to the general public. Meanwhile, several small companies have been operating in this area. These include the Equity Annuity Life Insurance Company and the Variable Annuity Life Insurance Company of America, both located at Washington, D.C., and the Participating Annuity Life Insurance Company at Rogers, Arkansas.

From any brokerage firm or investment dealer handling mutual funds, you can get a list of those available on the periodical payment plan, with group life coverage to complete the plan in the event that the saver prematurely dies.

Zeppo Marx Admits Large Bets With Terre Haute Ring

Terre Haute, Ind. (UPI)—Zeppo Marx of the Marx Brothers comedy team testified Thursday he had bet an estimated $10,000 with an alleged gambling syndicate operating in Terre Haute.

"It's most difficult to say how much the total was," "It might have been $10,000; it might have been more."

Marx identified himself as a rancher living in Palm Springs, Calif. He was one of nearly 200 witnesses whose testimony before a grand jury at Indianapolis last summer helped indict 8 men on charges of evading $325,000 in federal gaming taxes.

"I might have called more than once a week during September, October and November," Marx said. He testified that a few of the calls in the fall of 1957 might have been made from the Riviera Hotel, at Las Vegas, Nev. The rest were made from his Palm Springs home, he said.

Federal Judge Cale Holder asked Marx how he happened to call Terre Haute to place the bets.

"Judge, any Kindergarten kid in Las Vegas can give you the name of a bookmaker," Marx replied.

The former comedian testified he placed his calls with anyone who answered the telephone and thought his bets ranged from as low as $100 to a high of $2,000. He said he settled his bill once a year in Las Vegas.

"I think it was at the Riviera Hotel where someone came up and said I owed so much," Marx said. "It was the right figure, so I paid him."

Asked if he had spent considerable time in Las Vegas, Marx replied:

"To my sorrow, yes."

Greenwood Man Held In Connection With Shooting

A 30-year-old Greenwood man being held in connection with the shooting of a 38-year-old woman acquaintance was given lie detector tests Thursday afternoon at Police Headquarters.

Chief Dep. Co. Atty. Dale Fahrnbruch said the man will be jailed overnight for further investigation Friday.

The man, a laborer, reportedly admits shooting and wounding Miss Betty A. Card of Greenwood late Wednesday night on a county road about 3 miles west of Greenwood. But he has told authorities the shooting was accidental.

Shot In Shoulder

The man reportedly said he was taking a .12 gauge shotgun from the rear seat of the woman's car to put it into the front seat when it discharged and the blast struck Miss Card in the shoulder.

Miss Card, who works at Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. in Lincoln, was reported in good condition at a Lincoln hospital.

The man being held, who said he has been dating Miss Card for a number of years, brought her into Lincoln for treatment after the incident.

He reportedly had picked her up in her car after she got off work Wednesday night and they headed for Greenwood but parked west of the town. The location where the incident occurred reportedly is just inside the Lancaster County line.
